FALL READY TO GO TO PENITENTIARY IN NEW MEXICO

Consents to Addition of Day to Year Term So as to Avoid Serving in Washington Jail.

HE ACTS UPON DOCTOR'S ADVICE

Family Declares Bribe Taking Ex-Secretary Is "Most Unjustly Treated Man in History."

By the Associated Press.
EL PASO, Tex., July 13.—Former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall is resigned to the prospect of serving a year in prison for taking a $100,000 bribe from Edward L. Doheny, wealthy oil man. A member of his family said yesterday he had agreed to the addition of a day to his one-year sentence in order that he might serve the time outside the District of Columbia.

He expressed a desire to enter the penitentiary of New Mexico, his home state. The request was granted in a message from Dr. H. G. Campbell, his physician, to Frank Hogan, his Washington counsel. Dr. Campbell said the climate of Washington would affect Fall's health adversely.

Fall came to the El Paso home of his wife several weeks ago from the Three Rivers (N. M.) ranch, where physical examinations following refusal of the United States Supreme Court to review his conviction. His physicians said that to serve the sentence in an Eastern prison would result in his early death. The court order to serve the term was based on a subsequent report of Government physicians.

Members of Fall's family said his wife of the case had never been ill, and when the public learned the facts it would recognize him as the most unjustly treated man in history.

Washington Judge Delays Action Until Tomorrow.
WASHINGTON, July 13.—After conference with attorneys, Justice Bailey in the District of Columbia Supreme Court today postponed action on the case of Albert B. Fall until tomorrow.

ARMEN TAKE OFF ON FLIGHT FROM NEW YORK TO BUDAPEST

Enders Plan to Get Fuel at Harbor Grace.

By the Associated Press.
ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., July 13.—Alexander Magyar and George Enders took off today on their long delayed flight across the Atlantic to Budapest.

They will stop for fuel at Harbor Grace, N. F.

Magyar and Enders have been preparing for their Hungarian flight for more than a year. They have a black Lockheed plane with fuel and plan following the great circle northern course by way of Newfoundland.

Their plane is named "Justice to Hungary" and the flight was planned to focus public attention on wrongs done by Hungary as a result of the treaty of Trianon, Magyar said.

Brokers are suspended, EX-HEAD OF FIRM IS SHOT
Col. G. F. Morrison Taken to Hospital, Police Report, Had Been Confronted With Partners.

By the Associated Press.
TORONTO, Ont., July 13.—Following a report that the brokerage firm of Morrison & Southgate had been suspended from trading on the Standard Mining Exchange, 400,000 shares were received that Col. G. F. Morrison, former president of the firm, had been admitted to the General Hospital with a bullet wound in the right chest.

Shortly after the shooting, police were called to the Morrison home. Business partners of Col. Morrison were present when the officers arrived. Police said the partners had tried to interview Col. Morrison prior to the shooting. Col. Morrison's wife and family were absent from the city. The firm was suspended in September, 1930, in connection with the rapid rise and fall of Anna Gals & Co. shares, of which R. C. Southgate, a partner of the firm, was a director.

$30,634,000 DUKE TRUSTS EXEMPT FROM ESTATE TAX

Board of Appeals Rejects Claim of Revenue Department Against Millionaire's Estate.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 13.—Two trusts aggregating $30,634,000, created by the late James B. Duke for his daughter, Doris Duke, today were held exempt from Federal estate taxes by the Board of Tax Appeals.

The board overruled the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, who included the trusts in Duke's gross estate and sought to collect a $9,948,000 deficiency tax. It allowed a deficiency of $500,000, which was admitted by the executors of Duke's will.

Duke died in October, 1925, leaving an estate valued for tax purposes at $101,604,000, exclusive of the trusts established for his daughter in 1917 with the Farmers Loan and Trust Co. of New York City.

Petitioners in the tax action were the three executors, Duke's widow, Mrs. Nannaline H. Duke, George G. Allen and William R. Perkins.

BOY, 5, DROWNED WHEN SKIFF WITH 15 IN IT SINKS

Richmond Heights Child Loses Life in Mississippi River When Overloaded Boat Turns Over.

ONE MAN RESCUES ELEVEN PERSONS

Three Saved by Another After All Had Been Plunged Into Seven Feet of Water.

A small wooden skiff loaded with 15 picnickers capsized in the Mississippi River, two miles north of Seeburger yesterday, a 5-year-old boy being drowned and the others rescued by occupants of two motorboats who hurried to the scene when they heard the screams of women and saw the skiff settling in the water.

The boy was Harry H. Hellmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Hellmann, 1608 Big Bend boulevard, Richmond Heights. Eleven persons were rescued by Oscar Eschrich of Affton, and his companion, a St. Louisian whom he knew as Elmer Fisher, a printer. The name of the man who saved the other three was not learned.

Eschrich, 28 years old, a bricklayer, temporarily unemployed, identified game an account of the rescue to the Post-Dispatch today, explaining that it "wasn't much" and that he had neglected to obtain the names of those in the skiff.

"I had gone to Boulders Island in my motor boat," he related, "and had been swimming at the beach there when about 4 p. m. I saw the only other boat left on the island, a 12-foot, flat-bottom skiff with an outboard motor, put out for the St. Charles County shore with 14 people in it.

"Realizing the skiff was overloaded, I called to Fisher and asked him to help me start my motor. Then we heard screams and saw the skiff settling about 50 feet from shore. The passengers leaned over to one side and the skiff turned over.

"We were about 250 feet away and by the time we got there the people were all trying to climb on the bottom of the skiff, most of them on the same side. It rolled over and they tried to climb on top. We pulled alongside, told them to be quiet, and I jumped overboard.

"I saw a woman's hand appear and grabbed it and was surprised to find she had a baby in her other arm. I helped her in one boat and then got a boy about 15 years old, who was swimming feebly with two children clinging to him. I helped the others toward our boat and Fisher pulled them in. Several children handed on to one side of our boat and I had to caution them again.

Another Boat Takes Three.
"Meanwhile another man in a motor boat had come up and taken three of the people with him. The people were yelling back and forth to find out if everybody had been saved and each boatload thought the 5-year-old boy was with the others. When it was learned he was missing I went back and dived but couldn't find the body. The water is about seven feet deep where the skiff turned over.

Mr. and Mrs. Hellmann and their three children had gone to John Dryer's resort to spend the day at the clubhouse of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Munsey, their neighbors at 1414 Big Bend boulevard. After lunch they and other members of the party went to the island, a distance of several hundred yards, making several trips in the skiff.

Returning a few hours later, Munsey took the men of the party first and was making a second trip with the women and children when the skiff capsized. With him were his wife, Mrs. Hellmann, her son who was drowned and her daughters, Ruth, 9 years old, and Mary Ellen, 3. Mrs. Ernest Williams of Maplewood and her daughters, Dorcia, 16, and Gladys, 11; Williams' nephew and niece, 18 and 16 years old, respectively, and two friends; and Mrs. Fred Tarkie of 3444 Liernann avenue and her daughter, Victoria, 12.

LIGHT RESCUE SHIP LEAVES BROWNSVILLE

Airmen Complete All but 350 Miles of 2300-Mile Trip Which Began Yesterday Afternoon.

By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, July 13.—The airplane Capt. Emilio Carranza, in which Edward Maloney and Seth Yerrington took off from New York City yesterday on a projected nonstop flight to Mexico City, crashed today on the beach about 60 miles north of Soto La Marina, between Tampico and Brownsville, Tex. An aviator who passed overhead reported that apparently neither of the two flyers was hurt.

The Mexican Aviation Co. instructed its chief pilot at Brownsville to send a light plane to rescue the two American airmen. They were to be taken to Brownsville.

Aviators here estimated the New York plane had been forced down between 10 and 10:30 a. m., after having been in the air about 15 hours and having covered all 2300 miles of its journey of 2300 miles.

Henry Dorrell, the Mexican Aviation Co. pilot who sighted the plane, said he could see the number NR-245-V. This is the number of the Capt. Carranza. The two men on the beach waved to him, the flyer said. Dorrell said the left wing tip was smashed and landing gear damaged.

The plane had passed over Brownsville at 9:35 a. m. It left Roosevelt Field, New York, at 4:36 p. m. yesterday on the third anniversary of the death of Capt. Emilio Carranza, who crashed in Mount Holly, N. J., on a trip from New York to Mexico City. A shaft to the memory of Carranza was unveiled at Mount Holly yesterday.

Chicago Woman Recovers $91 After Lad Scatters Money Among Companions.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 13.—For 19 years Mrs. Rose Amato boarded the money she earned from her grocery until she had accumulated $3000 which she concealed in three rolls of bills behind some tomato cans on top shelf. Today she had left from those years of saving, $91 in cash, two bicycles, two air rifles and one swimming suit.

Police said her 13-year-old son, Johnny, found the three rolls of bills, and distributed them among his friends. He gave his mother the bicycles, air rifles and swimming suit he had bought. From two of his companions the $91 was recovered.

Mrs. Amato put the $91 back behind the tomato cans.

NEW $300,000,000 CREDIT CONSIDERED

Acting Secretary Mills Says Government Has No Control Over Bank's Foreign Policy.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, July 13.—A report from Ambassador Sackett in Berlin over the week-end informed the American Government Germany must have financial assistance very quickly.

The Ambassador has reported in detail to the State Department on the German situation.

While there was no formal appeal by the German Government to the United States for help, the Ambassador said that help must be forthcoming.

He advised the State Department of the necessity for foreign assistance after talking with German officials.

Federal Reserve Meeting.
A meeting of the Federal Reserve Board was called, but Governor Eugene Meyer declined to discuss reports the Reserve Banks would participate in a new international credit advance to Germany.

The New York Reserve Bank acts as agent for the system in such credit arrangements and when negotiations are concluded go to the board for approval. No proposition for renewal or expansion of the German credit assistance has reached the board formally.

When the reserve system recently joined the Bank of England, the Bank of France and the Bank of International Settlements in buying $169,000,000 worth of prime German commercial paper guaranteed by the Reichsbank, Governor George L. Harrison of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York conducted the negotiations and announced their completion. At that time, Harrison made known that should a renewal be required, it would in all probability be forthcoming. It falls due next Thursday.

Federal Reserve Considering Whether to Extend Aid.
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 13.—It was up to the Federal Reserve Bank to decide today whether it cared to join European banks in extending aid to Germany.

Ogden L. Mills, acting Secretary of the Treasury, after a Sunday meeting with officers of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, said: "It is a well-known fact that the Government has no control over the foreign credit policies of the Federal Reserve banks."

Expectations were that an announcement would be made by the Federal Reserve after the directors of the Bank of International Settlements met at Basel, Switzerland, today.

At the Sunday conference with Mills were Owen D. Young, S. Parker Gilbert, former Agent General for Reparations, Gov. George L. Harrison of the Reserve Bank and William H. Woodin.

It was understood that matters under discussion were the renewal of the $169,000,000 credit to the Reichsbank, granted about three weeks ago and falling due Thursday, and the extension of new credit, estimated at from $250,000,000 to $300,000,000.

Government Appeals to German People to Keep Their Courage

BERLIN, July 13.

By the Associated Press.
CHANCELLOR BRUENING'S government today appealed to the German people to keep their heads in this time of financial distress and not to make things worse by losing confidence in the Fatherland.

"President Hoover's moratorium plan afforded a great relief to our economic situation," a proclamation issued in the name of the Government asserted, "a large sum which Germany was entitled to claim to retain could, by virtue of that plan, be restored to the banks."

"The weeks during which the struggle in connection with this plan has gone on have, however, done enormous damage to private business. Millions loaned to Germany from abroad have been withdrawn because of the uncertainty of the situation."

"Even today complete tranquility has not been restored. Although our aim must be that the German economic system shall once more be enabled to work with its own means, it is now necessary, if severe interruptions are to be avoided, that further withdrawals shall cease."

"Efforts of the Reichsbank and the Gold Discount Bank are directed to obtaining from abroad credits of the longest possible term to aid private business and to relieve their distress."

"Despite all efforts, in the course of these events, one of our largest banking institutions—the Darmstadter und National Bank—has suspended payments."

"The Government considers it to be its duty and the President has granted the necessary powers—to meet the great dangers which threaten as a result of this suspension."

"It is not a question of saving the bank's assets, but of saving the property of hundreds of thousands of its customers, thereby saving their business from interruption or even from ruin."

"From these viewpoints alone the Government will, in case of deficiencies, step in. It is self-evident that the bank's business will be watched by the Government trustees."

"No irregularities contrary to law have been discovered. It is essential that the German people in this difficult situation retain their courage and not increase the trouble by losing their self-confidence."

Germany's Financial Crisis Causes Early Flurry—Moderate Declines at Close.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 13.—Although Germany's financial crisis gave the New York Stock market a flurry in the early trading today, prices rallied sluggishly from the lows during the ensuing hours and closed with moderate net declines.

After its initial decline the market took a more optimistic view of the German situation, apparently confident that the Reich would receive aid through the auspices of the Bank for International Settlements.

Final quotations were slightly under the highs attained on an early afternoon rally. The Reich would receive aid through the auspices of the Bank for International Settlements.

Trading in the German mark was virtually at a standstill, owing to the measures taken by the Reichsbank to check its losses of foreign exchange. The mark closed here on Saturday at 22.10 cents for cables transfers, and was nominal for cash transfers, and was nominal for cables transfers, and was nominal for cash transfers.

Attention centered upon the German Government's issue in the bond market. The Young plan, or 5% per cent issue, tumbled to its previous low of $430 per bond of $1000 par value, then was supported. It was turned over in large volume. The 7 per cent, or Dawes plan issue, dropped more than $50 per $1000 bond to a new low price.

LONDON, July 13.—The unexpected collapse of the Darmstadter und National Bank in Berlin threw a shadow over the Stock Exchange and foreign exchange markets today. Values were marked down on the stock exchange in virtually all sections in anticipation of selling from outsiders but thus far no great offerings have appeared. German bonds were weakest, nominally, 88 to 91 for 7 per cent and 86 to 84 for 5% per cent as against 96 and 88%, respectively, on Friday.

After midday the stock markets weakened considerably on selling orders. British funds fell one to three points, the conversion loan and the 4 per cent consolidated showing the greatest decline. Other sections weakened in sympathy, hydrocarbons dropping to 18 1/2, nickels to 13 1/2, traction to 13 1/2 and radium to 14.

CREDIT UNION OF BANKS DECREED TO FIGHT OFF RUN ON FOREIGN CURRENCY

Government Acts Promptly After Long Night Sessions to Stop Depositors' Demands and Help Prevent Spread of Panic.

LUTHER IN BASEL SEEKING SUPPORT

Republic's Financial Situation Before Directors There of Bank for International Settlements; Causes of Disaster.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, July 13.—Directing all its energies toward saving the nation from financial ruin, the German Government today issued an emergency decree, taking over guarantees of the $300,000,000 Darmstadter und National Bank, which has suspended payments because of the drain on its resources by constantly rising demands for foreign currencies. All important banks are bound in a credit bloc for protection.

The run which closed Darmstadter started in some degree to other banks this morning, and, to help prevent the panic from spreading, the Government closed the Stock Exchange for today and tomorrow.

Two Berlin private banking houses—Schwarz Goldschmidt & Co. and Gebrüder Hammerstein—who operated in partnership with the Darmstadter und National Bank, closed their doors today. Otto Hirsch & Co. of Frankfurt-on-Main, also closely allied with "Danat," also was closed.

Jacob Goldschmidt, head of Darmstadter and regarded as one of the ablest bankers in Germany, asserted today a moratorium should have been declared by all the German banks weeks ago and it ought to be declared immediately. He laid his bank's crash to the press of the political opposition which "crystallized vague fears into the one specific fear that our bank was unsound."

Meanwhile the Cabinet, whose members are worn by the constant sessions of several days past, remained on the job.

Luther Goes to Basel.
Dr. Hans Luther, whose efforts to obtain French participation in a foreign credit for the Reichsbank were unsuccessful in that the Government declined to accept conditions imposed by France, went by plane this morning to Basel to attend a meeting of the World Bank directors there and to seek financial support for Germany.

The Government emergency decree empowers the Government under the "dictatorship clause" of the Constitution to take over guarantees in connection with the suspension of the Darmstadter und National Bank.

Runs on other important banks had increased through the forenoon, when several decided to pay only a percentage of cash withdrawals.

The Communist and National Socialist parties today served on the Government a demand for early convocation of the Reichstag in view of the political situation abroad and the economic situation at home.

One of Germany's Largest.
The great Darmstadter und National Bank is one of the five largest in the country, with capital and reserves of about $24,000,000. It has 62 branches in Berlin and other cities throughout the country. The notice of suspension of payments, however, carried the assurance that the Government would guarantee all deposits and that "orderly liquidation" of the bank's business would be carried out.

RAIL BOND HOLDERS SUPPORT PLEA FOR FREIGHT RATE RISE

Committees Representing Life Insurance Firms,
Savings Banks and Others
Intervene Before I. C. C.

FEAR ISSUES WILL LOSE ELIGIBILITY

Emphasize That 40 Pct.
of $1,000,000 Investment Made in 1906
Would Have Been Lost.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Two committees representing holders of railroad securities filed interventions with the Interstate Commerce Commission today, supporting the request of railroads for a 15 per cent increase in freight rates.

The petitions were filed by the emergency committees on railroad investments of life insurance companies and mutual savings banks, and the security holders committee of the railroad emergency.

The first committee, headed by Edward D. Duffield, president of the Prudential Insurance Co., represents virtually all the important life insurance and savings bank interests in the country, while the second committee, headed by Fairman R. Dick of Roosevelt & Son, represents bankers, represents other types of investors in rail securities.

The life insurance and savings bank companies represented petitioned that they held railroad bonds in excess of $2,000,000,000 and that all the life insurance and savings bank companies have railroad bond holdings of about $4,700,000,000.

The petitioning committees hold that these savings and other institutions are endangered by stringent legal restrictions on the investment merit of rail bonds and that, unless emergency action is taken quickly, these rail bonds may become ineligible for their investments.

The petition of the life insurance companies and savings banks says 20 of the 67 largest railroads will not earn their charges in 1931 and 22 will earn less than one and a half times.

On account of this decline, the petition states, bonds of 21 of 35 companies now legal for investment in New York State may be stricken from the legal list at the beginning of 1932. Such bonds, the petition holds, will thus become legally ineligible for investment in New York and many of the stricken bonds will not meet the requirements of the life insurance companies and savings banks in other states.

Equally significant with the decline in value of railroad bonds, the security holders' committee says, is the decline in market value of railroad stocks. A person who in 1906 invested $1,000,000 in 25 of the largest railroads would have lost 40 per cent of his investment, it is declared.

The Interstate Commerce Commission will investigate operation of railroads to determine whether certain practices are "lawful and consistent with economical and efficient management." The inquiry will be conducted by the commission in connection with the application of the carrier to a blanket increase of 15 per cent in freight rates.

Saying it wanted to have full and complete information on the subject, the commission announced it will investigate "prices paid for railroad fuel and the practices in connection with the handling of coal at tidewater points, lake coal, private freight cars, the spotting of cars, at industries and the construction and maintenance of sidings for shippers."

Hearings will be conducted separately on the various subjects to be inquired into.

WOMAN LEAPS TO DEATH
FROM CHICAGO HOTEL WINDOW

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 13.—A woman, believed to be Mrs. Sarah Kolster, 39 years old, scribbled a note of suicide for her two children and of love for her husband, and then leaped from the ninth floor of a South Side hotel to her death today.

She had registered, the hotel clerk said, as Mrs. Kolster and her body was found an hour later. A note, addressed to her husband, Louis, read:

"I don't want to stand in the way of your folks. Take care of the children very good. Have Harold's eyes tested twice a year. He might get cold if he sits on the ground. Have Edward's tonsils removed and he will be all right. You were always wonderful to me. I love you with all my heart—may God bless you."

SELECTION OF JURY BEGUN IN TRIAL OF BOSTELMAN

Abe Levin and Cocky Leonard Also Defendants in Denver Store Robbery.

SPECIAL TO THE POST-DISPATCH.
DENVER, July 13.—Selection of a jury was begun today in the trial of Henry W. Bostelman, Abe Levin and "Cocky" Leonard, St. Louis gangsters who were caught May 10 in the robbery of the Golden Eagle department store.

The gangsters are charged in three counts, burglary without force, burglary with force and carrying a minimum penalty of 25 years imprisonment and a maximum of 40. An offer of the three to plead guilty and accept 10-year penitentiary terms has been rejected by the State.

A special venire of 95 was in court and the 12 jurors are expected to be selected from it by tomorrow.

Bostelman is under indictment at St. Louis in the $1,000,000 Grand National Bank robbery in which Leonard is said to have been one of his four confederates. A request of Assistant Circuit Attorney Lenon that the pair be returned to St. Louis for trial in the Grand National case has been refused by the District Attorney here.

AURORA BANKER ON TRIAL

Further Continuance for M. T. Easley Refused.

By the Associated Press.
CASSVILLE, Mo., July 13.—M. T. Easley, former cashier of the Bank of Aurora, whose affairs have been of state-wide interest more than a year, was forced to trial before Circuit Judge Emery Smith here today upon charges of receiving deposits when he knew the bank was insolvent.

Easley's attorneys pleaded for further continuance on the ground that they would be unable to produce important defense witnesses, and that Easley's mother is dangerously ill. Judge Smith overruled the application after it was opposed vigorously by the State's attorneys and selection of jury was begun.

Prosecuting Attorney McPherson of Aurora is assisted by E. E. Robison of Jefferson City, Assistant State's Attorney-General; Arthur Curtis of Springfield, special counsel for the State, and Charles Prentiss of Neosho.

FARM PAY LOWEST IN 15 YEARS

Supply of Workers 111 Per Cent of Normal; 99 in 1930.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 13.—The Agricultural Department said today that farm wages on July 1 were at the lowest level of the last 15 years. The index was 123 per cent of pre-war as compared with 127 on April 1, 1920 a year ago and 112 in 1916.

The supply of workers on July 1 was 111.1 per cent of normal as compared to 99 per cent a year ago. The demand for farm labor was 74.4 per cent of normal in contrast to 84.8 on July 1, 1930.

BRIAND CONFERS WITH VON HOESCH ON BANK SITUATION

Germany's Appeal for Financial Aid Still Is Before the French Government.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, July 13.—Foreign Minister Aristide Briand received Ambassador von Hoesch this morning and had a long talk with him concerning the critical financial situation in Germany.

Specifically, it was reported, the Ambassador informed Briand that Chancellor Brüning and Foreign Minister Curtius of Germany are not likely to come to Paris for the proposed conference while the financial situation in Germany is so critical.

Appeal to Premier Laval.

Germany's latest appeal for financial assistance, made to the French Government by Ambassador von Hoesch last night, was before the Government today.

Laval was hurriedly called back to Paris from his country home and von Hoesch in a lengthy interview painted the gravity of the situation in the darkest colors. It was understood he received no satisfaction except for a sympathetic hearing.

The Premier Is Believed to Have Told Him That France Was Unable to Help Germany, for the Present at Least, because of Financial as Well as Political Reasons. He Issued a Noncommittal Communiqué Saying Only "The Gravity of the Financial Situation in Germany" Had Been Discussed.

Laval is understood to have promised to lay the matter again before Finance Minister Pierre Flandin, who cut short his week-end vacation, and before other members of the Cabinet scattered throughout the country for fetes in connection with Bastille day tomorrow.

Henderson Going to Paris.

Foreign Secretary Henderson of Great Britain will come here tomorrow prior to a trip to Berlin and the entire French position regarding financial aid to Germany will be laid before him.

On Wednesday Henderson Will Be the Luncheon Guest of the Heads of the French Government and Later in the Day He Probably Will See Col. Henry L. Stimson, American Secretary of State, Shortly After Stimson's Arrival in Paris.

Premier Pierre Laval and Finance Minister Flandin conferred for an hour this evening and afterward Laval announced they had discussed the financial situation in Germany.

The Premier said he anticipated no further ministerial meetings until Friday's Cabinet meeting, at which the German situation will be considered.

Observers expressed the belief that, while France will watch intently the financial and political drama beyond the Rhine, it is prepared to go to Germany's assistance only with other countries.

France Is Believed to Desire a United Franco-British move as the best way to link political and financial considerations in extending aid to Germany.

dor Claudel of France, but neither disclosed the nature of the discussion.

"The heads of the principal European central banks, including the Bank of England and the Bank of France," Castle said, "are meeting tomorrow morning in Basel, Switzerland, with the Bank of International Settlements. They will no doubt consider the German banking crisis."

"Obviously, any plan for a banking solution of the situation must originate from these banks which are on the ground and it is my understanding that our bankers are prepared to consider assistance in any effective plan of relief that they may evolve."

A telegram to the State Department from American Ambassador Sackett at Berlin described the financial crisis in Germany as grave. Castle said the message forecast that it would be difficult to visualize what would happen if the impending collapse materialized.

Returning from his Rapidan camp, President Hoover today found a number of important communications concerning Germany's plight on his desk and immediately began a study of them. Additional information came to him from the State Department, the Treasury and press reports.

All available sources were used by the White House to keep in close contact with the situation, although it was said that the chief executive had not communicated directly with Ambassador Sackett or with any other official in Germany.

Acting Secretary Mills of the Treasury, who participated in week-end conferences in New York with various financial authorities, had an engagement with the President this morning.

When the bank finally was thrown overboard with the Government itself assuming to guarantee its deposits, the financial leaders seemed more inclined to enter a national credit block whereby they would stand or fall together. By this time, however, the morning papers had gone to press and it would have been impossible to reach the breakfast tables with the news.

Although it was known that the Danat bank had been involved in the crash of the Nordwolle concern in Bremen, one of Germany's largest wool-combing and worsted-spinning firms, yet the banks were not affected and no one dreamed it would be forced to close its doors.

Established in 1879, it paid a dividend of eight per cent in 1930 and dividends of 12 per cent in previous years. It employed more than 7000 persons in all its branches and was considered a financial rock. It was reported to have lost about $12,500,000 in the Nordwolle collapse.

Jacob Goldschmidt, head of the Darmstadter und National Bank, in declaring today that a general moratorium by all the banks in Germany should be declared immediately, said such a move should have been taken weeks ago.

The storm of short term credit withdrawals from abroad in recent weeks, concentrating on his bank and culminating in its collapse, he characterized as "the result of mad, unreasoning panic among foreign lenders."

The disaster which befell his bank had a three-fold origin, he said—first, a political campaign of rumors against the bank (the Nation of its rope. Goldschmidt said the directors hoped to the very last that a credit bloc of all the many banks could be arranged so that they might present a united front. "When that failed," he said, "there was nothing left for us to do."

The Cabinet struggled late last night in an effort to persuade the other banks to participate in the credit bloc which would guarantee Darmstadter und National as well as themselves, but the Darmstadter was thrown overboard.

The Telegraf Union says Edgar Schacht, former Governor of the Reichsbank, who was present during part of yesterday's Cabinet meeting, was offered the post of "Reich commissioner" for the Darmstadter und National Bank but refused.

Big German Bank Suspends After Run

History of German Financial Difficulties Leading to Crisis

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Germany's strong Central Bank, the Reichsbank, fighting what has been a losing battle against intangible forces of enormous power, symbolizes the economic struggle that has threatened her with financial ruin. This battle, if completely lost, would have far-reaching effects throughout the rest of the world.

The immediate cause of the crisis is the withdrawal of a huge volume of foreign funds from the Reich. In the background, of course, is the country's serious and complex problems of international trade and finance.

Before the World War Germany was a large lender in other nations. Now she has become a large borrower, with a foreign debt approximately $4,000,000,000. Her unemployment problem is serious, for 5,000,000 persons are out of work. She has lost the favorable trade balance which only last year enabled her to wrest from Great Britain second place honors as an exporting country.

Foreign Capital Alarmed.

Foreign capital, alarmed at the more serious turn in conditions in the Reich, began its exodus several months ago, and in the past few weeks it has reached the serious total of around one and a half billion marks. Some German people likewise, it is reported, have been converting their funds into dollars, francs and pounds sterling, and Dutch florins, thus adding to the Reichsbank's difficulties in supporting the mark.

Strenuous measures were taken to halt this outflow: the discount rate was raised, large foreign credits were contracted at the world's financial centers, President Hoover's war debt holiday revived confidence but momentarily and the flight from the mark was renewed vigorously only last week. A thousand of Germany's largest corporations offered a $5,000,000,000 marks bank guarantee fund.

ROBBERIES SHOT HIM, YOUTH SAYS

Young Man Found Wounded in Hand Admits Hold-ups in Forest Park, Names Accomplice.

TELLS OF QUARREL OVER THE LOOT

Taxi Driver Informs Police He Drove Suspect to Cedar Hill, Mo., After Disarming Him.

A youth found shot in the left hand at the Eighteenth street entrance of Union Station early yesterday, confessed to police two hold-ups and named an accomplice, with whom he said he had quarreled over loot, as the man who had shot him.

The prisoner said he was Charles Peterson, 19 years old, 1720 Olive street. He was held at City Hospital.

A man answering the description of Peterson's former companion, was driven to Cedar Hill, Mo., early yesterday by Henry Black, a taxi chauffeur. Black reported that he was called to a hotel at the Olive street address by the man and that his fare produced a revolver after they had driven several blocks. Black disarmed him and drove him to his destination. The chauffeur turned the weapon over to police.

Peterson said they had held up a man and woman in a parked automobile near the Municipal Theater last Thursday night. The holdup had not been reported to police.

Saturday night, he said, they had obtained $20 and a ring from a man and woman in an automobile in Forest Park.

Negro Identified as Man Who Held Up Store.

A Negro questioned by police of the Carr Street station, when a loaded automatic pistol was found in his pocket early yesterday, was identified by David Cornblath, manager of a store at 1225 W. Main street, as the man who obtained $25 June 29 when Cornblath, his son and a clerk were held up and tied to chairs in a rear room.

The Negro said he was George Henderson, 28 years old. The holdup also was made by the son, Irvin Cornblath, and the clerk, Miss Hilda Petzman, 5715 Lotus avenue.

Alfred Klein, 1480 Blackstone avenue, proprietor of a pool room, was robbed of $32 and bound and gagged by two men who held him up in front of 1248 North Kingshighway, and left him in a nearby alley.

Joseph Winston, 14-year-old newsboy, 2901 O'Fallon street, was struck on the head and robbed of $2.40 by a man who accosted him at Twenty-first and Jackson streets. The boy was treated for a scalp laceration at City Hospital.

Other holdups: Confectionery of John W. Wooten, 4581 E. Main street, $100; Iosco's store, 2808 Bell avenue, held up in Forest Park, $10; Carl Fischer, 8904 Jennings road, in Carr Park, $45; the store of Joseph Cobb, 4222 Hebert street, $15; Charles Connors, 114 North Broadway, at Twenty-third street and Franklin avenue, $24; Henry Rauze, 4522 Cote Brillante avenue, at Channing and Lucas avenues, $2.50; Mrs. Anna Schenck, 1415 East John avenue, $1.25.

Patrolman—Follows Auto and Young Robbers Are Caught.

Patrolman George Lawless became suspicious of the occupants of an automobile which was driven slowly along his beat early today and by cutting across laws and through alleys managed to keep it in sight. When it stopped in front of a drug store at 4201 Maryland avenue, he approached two youths who stood in front of the store and called on them to surrender.

One, who held a crow bar in his hand, gave himself up, but his companion fled in the automobile. The prisoner said he was William Winstead, 21 years old. Lawless reported the license number of the automobile and later police of the Magnolia Avenue station arrested the driver at Grand boulevard and Shennadoah avenue. He said he was Edward O'Malley, 19, 3808A Olive street.

In the machine police found a small amount of change and a number of towels while both youths admitted taking from the Loriel Natatorium, 4525 Olive street, earlier last night. At O'Malley's room they found $400 worth of clothing stolen a week ago from the tailor shop of Joseph Beghosian, 219 Whittier street.

Burglars broke open a safe in the office of the Personal Finance Co., 6200 Easton avenue, and stole $407 Saturday night. The theft was discovered yesterday by the building agent, George Endler.

Jobless Man's Body Found in River

The body of Ernest Spindler, 50 years old, an unemployed waiter, was found yesterday in the Mississippi River at Wyandotte street. Identification was made by a niece, Miss Elsie Seller, 4056 Hartford street.

Textile Strike Leader

ANN BURLAC, organizer for the National Textile Workers' Union, who was convicted July 10 of throwing pepper into the eyes of a woman worker in the mills at Central Falls, R. I., where a strike has been in progress. She was sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $200.

WOMAN DOG SLED RACER

MARRIED TO NANSSEN'S SON Mrs. Elizabeth Ricker Wed Six Days After Divorce Decree Becomes Final.

BOSTON, July 12.—Mrs. Elizabeth Ricker Miller, internationally known dog-sled racer, and Kaare Nansen, a forest engineer and son of the late Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, Norwegian explorer, were married last Tuesday.

Mrs. Ricker met Nansen about eight months ago. They were married six days after a divorce obtained by Edward P. Ricker Jr., of Poland Springs, Me., wealthy resort owner, became absolute.

Her interest in Nansen's work in plugging the vast Canadian North Woods was reciprocated by his admiration for her achievements as a dog-sled racer and writer.

Mrs. Nansen broke the record for the 25-mile course at Poland Springs in 1920, defeating Leonard Seppala by 50 seconds. She was born in Providence, R. I., and was married to Edward P. Ricker Jr. in 1922. Nansen is the eldest son of the Arctic explorer who died in 1930. The Nansens will live part of their honeymoon in Norway, where Mrs. Nansen will devote some time to practicing for dog-sled races she plans to enter in 1932.

L. B. HOWARD WOUNDS SELF, WHEN CLEANING A RIFLE

Youth, Whose Wife Sued His Foster Mother for Alienating Affections, Slightly Injured.

Lloyd Boyle Howard, foster son of Miss Sidney Emeline Boyle, 5025 Lindell boulevard, shot himself in the right leg yesterday afternoon while unloading a .22-caliber rifle. He was treated at St. Luke's Hospital, where he told police he was unloading the rifle preparatory to cleaning it. After treatment, he was taken home.

Howard, now 25 years old, married Grace V. Tolbert, clerk in a candy store, several years ago. They have one child. Subsequently she left him and filed suit against Miss Boyle for alienation of her husband's affections. An award of $100,000 was given her by a jury, but was reduced to $10,000 by Judge Landwehr to $50,000. Miss Boyle's lawyers have appealed.

WOMAN'S DEATH LAID TO SHOCK OF DEALING WITH KILLER BURKE

She Was Contracting to Sell House to Him When He Was Caught at Green City, Mo.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 12.—Death yesterday of Mrs. Lovine McLanahan, 63 years old, is attributed by her son, Orville McLanahan, to shock she suffered last spring when she learned she had been negotiating to sell a house to Fred Burke, notorious for the murder of a policeman.

A few days before Burke was to have completed the contract for the house, he was captured near Green City, Mo., subsequently he received a penitentiary sentence on Michigan for the murder of a policeman.

A gang of extortionists later failed in an attempt to obtain from Mrs. McLanahan the $300 deposit Burke paid on the house. She was one of the gang were sentenced to prison.

HENRY GALLANT DIES AT 65

Sold Market Street Property to City for $265,000.

Henry Gallant, 3017 Hawthorne boulevard, president of Gallant Loan & Mercantile Co., 1416 Market street, died of heart disease Saturday at Jewish Hospital. He was 65 years old. The funeral was held today at Berger's undertaking establishment, followed by burial in Mount Sinai Cemetery. His widow, three sons and two daughters survive.

Mr. Gallant was one of the largest holders of downtown real estate acquired by the city for the Memorial Plaza. Property on Market street was bought by the city for $265,000 after he had held out for $300,000.

TEN LOSE LIVES IN PLANE CRASHES OVER WEEK-END

Two Pilots Killed in Chicago and $20,000 Ship They Are Driving to Detroit Is Burned.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, July 12.—Two experienced pilots were killed yesterday when a $20,000 air line crashed at 150-mile speed from an altitude of 700 feet. A explosion which followed, caused a fire which charred the bodies of Chester R. Bailes, 32 years old, of Kansas City, Mo., pilot for the Barnhart Airways, Inc., and William H. Warren, 32, of San Antonio, pilot for the Century Airways. They were old friends. Warren, on his day off, was flying with Bailes merely to keep him company.

The ship was borrowed by the Barnhart Airways last week from the Detroit Aircraft Co. After a slight accident yesterday morning, Bailes was instructed to return it to Detroit. He had traveled only half a mile when the crash occurred. Two columns of fire leaped 60 feet into the air from the wing fuel line tanks as 125 gallons of fuel flared about the walled men, strapped to their cockpits, when an explosion followed the crash.

The ship arrived at the Municipal Airport Saturday evening with six passengers. Yesterday morning it was wheeled out of its hangar to carry two passengers to Kansas City. An incoming Century Airways plane, taxiing across the field, clipped a wing of the Detroit plane, damaging the body fabric, but causing no structural injury apparent at the time.

Alplane accidents over the weekend caused the death of ten persons in the United States and Canada, and another died as a result of injuries he suffered in a plane crash last Wednesday.

Miss Elizabeth Osborn, 16, and Miss Ruby Hinson, 15, both of Jonesboro, Ark., were killed when the plane in which they were riding with H. E. Lawhead, pilot, fell to earth near Jonesboro. Lawhead was dangerously injured.

At Harrisonville, Mo., an airplane piloted by Irwin Vrooman of Kansas City became entangled in a tree and crashed in flames, burning to death George Colburn, 19 years old, of Manhattan, Kan., and Ershul Thomas, 24, of Harrisonville. Vrooman died early today.

Art Bielby, pilot, and William Bramphill, passenger, both of Lloydminster, Sask., were killed Saturday night at Lloydminster. Their plane fell from a height of 1200 feet.

Charles Suggs, 30, of St. Clair, Mich., died yesterday in a Martins Ferry, O., hospital of a fracture of the skull suffered last Wednesday when his plane smashed into a hill at Yorkville, O.

Frank Stare, 42 years old, pilot of a plane which crashed at Buffalo, N. Y., yesterday, died today of injuries. Two passengers in the plane are in serious condition.

BOY, 5, DROWNED WHEN SKIFF WITH 15 IN IT SINKS

Montgomery street, he had gone to that vicinity, known as Columbia bottom, to assist in building a clubhouse for Gus Wehmer, 1103 Montgomery street.

Tiring of that about 8 o'clock they decided to enter the river, although none could swim more than a few strokes. Wehmer did not notice their departure. Twice the Keathley boy swam a short distance and stood up in shallow water to rest. The third time he found the water was over his head and without calling for help he sank.

One of his companions ran for assistance while the other waited on the bank. Fishermen went to the scene, but could not find the body.

Section Hand Killed by Train.

Encarnacion Rodriguez, 36-year-old section hand, 1214 Col. Broadway, was fatally injured Saturday when struck by a Rock Island train as he was walking on the tracks near Union, Mo. He died yesterday at City Hospital.

Bridge Danger Averted.

A great bridge, which for years has borne heavy traffic safely, was closed for repairs because the abutments had been weakened by the constant action of the water.

By correcting the matter in time the possibility of dangerous results is done away with, and it will be restored to its original usefulness.

PARACHUTE JUMP MADE WHEN PLANE IS UPSIDE DOWN

Lieut. Brennan Leaps While Ship Is Put Through a Barrel Roll.

Several thousand aviation fans who attended the Tuberculosis day flying show at Lambert-St. Louis Field yesterday afternoon witnessed a novelty in parachute jumping.

Instead of jumping from an airplane as it was flown right side up, Lieut. Philip P. Brennan of the Thirty-fifth Division Air Service, Missouri National Guard, tumbled head foremost from an army plane as his commanding officer, Maj. Philip R. Love, put it through a leisurely barrel roll.

Lieut. Brennan dropped out while the plane was on its back at 2500 feet and dropped for almost 1000 feet before he pulled his ripcord and floated to an easy landing on the field.

Another feature of the program was the flying of National Guard and Naval Reserve pilots in formation. "dog fights" and other maneuvers.

The show marked the first public exhibition of the navy's new "Heldiver" three-purpose planes, the fastest military ships in this area, which were demonstrated in maneuvers by three navy pilots under Lieut. Frank Weld, commanding officer of the local unit.

CRIMINAL CARELESSNESS CHARGED IN FATAL COLLISION

Coroner's Verdict Blames Crew of Street Car That Killed Man in Ambulance.

A Coroner's verdict of criminal carelessness was returned today against the crew of a street car involved in a collision with an ambulance which resulted in the death of a man.

The ambulance was struck as it crossed the intersection of the street car tracks and the street. The driver of the street car, Thomas Morrison, a laborer, was killed.

Morrison had taken poison at his home, 1218 Marcus avenue, and was being taken to city hospital. The ambulance was struck as it crossed the intersection of the street car tracks and the street. The driver of the street car, Thomas Morrison, a laborer, was killed.

KILLED AS AUTO TURNS OVER, HITS STREET CAR

Gervase DeGuire Met Death Accidentally, Coroner's Verdict Says.

A Coroner's verdict of accident was returned today in the death of Gervase DeGuire, 22-year-old plating works foreman, 1739 Preston place, whose automobile struck a southbound street car at Forest Park boulevard yesterday.

DeGuire, driving west, applied his brakes and swerved, over the curb, before it struck the car, witnesses said.

With him were Patrick Ryan, a chauffeur, and William Bess, a plater, both of 244 Lafayette avenue, who suffered lacerations and abrasions.

Woman Hurt in Auto Collision Dies in Hospital.

Mrs. Anna Kelly, 29, 9622 South Broadway, died at City Hospital shortly after she had been taken there yesterday on a truck following an accident on Telegraph road, five miles south of St. Louis. Kelly, with her husband, Thomas Kelly, in an automobile driven by George Honig, 113 Ripa avenue, Luxemburg, suffered a crushed chest and internal injuries when the machine overturned after colliding with another automobile.

The men were not seriously hurt. Constable Fessler of Carondelet Township is investigating. The name of the driver of the other machine is not known to authorities.

SOLDIER WHO SWALLOWED

TEETH RUSHED EAST IN PLANE

An Army ambulance plane bearing Olaf Nelson, a private at Fort Bliss, Tex., with a bridge of two artificial teeth lodged in his throat, to Washington to obtain surgical attention refused at Scott Field today.

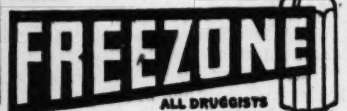

The plane, piloted by Lieut. P. G. Irvin, arrived at Scott Field from Fort Bliss, Ok., at 7:45 a. m. and took off 40 minutes later. Nelson was resting easily.

The flight was begun after physicians at Fort Bliss failed in attempts to remove the teeth. Officials announced they would request Dr. Chevalier Jackson, Philadelphia specialist, to take charge of the case at Walter Reed Hospital. Lieut. Irvin said he anticipated reaching Washington tonight.

end to CORNS between toes

Those terribly mean corns between the toes that seem to defy all treatment—they're as easily removable as any other with FREEZONE! A few drops of FREEZONE instantly put the corn to sleep. Pain is deadened at once, and soon the corn becomes so loose that you can actually lift it right out with your fingers. Hard corns or soft corns—all yield to FREEZONE. Why suffer?

DECRIES COMPETITIVE

CHURCH ADVERTISING

Dr. Ivan Lee Holt in Radio Forum Advocates Dignified Appeal.

Competitive advertising of churches, with the use of such terms as "best choir," "greatest church," and "heart of the city," was decry by the Rev. Dr. Ivan Lee Holt of St. John's Methodist Church, who answered questions on the church and the ministry in yesterday's Community Forum broadcast.

Advertising is necessary, Dr. Holt said, and the church and the minister who do not use it will not be known, but church advertising should be dignified, not cheap and competitive.

To the question, "Do the women of the congregation take up too much of the minister's time and thought?" Dr. Holt replied:

"The women's organizations in the church make possible the church's program. The women do much of the work and carry on the family religious tradition. Because they can give more time during the week than men, the church is sometimes called a woman's church. The women of the church are at women's meetings, but every minister I know, is just as concerned about seeing the men. In fact, I think he spends more time in trying to see the men than in seeing the women of the church. The women make the home and the church is closer to the home than to the office; it is natural that the minister should see much of the women of the church."

Dr. Holt spoke in favor of hot-weather church services, regardless of the size of the congregations; said that a minister must be a joiner and a mixer, but should not carry this to extremes; that an oversupply of candidates for the ministry had followed the recent shortage; that ministers should have a comfortable living, but should not be too comfortable to be prophets; and that the minister should not speculate in stocks or bet on races. In listing his favorite hymns, he named first, "Oh, Love That Will Not Let Me Go."

MINERS' UNION MEN CONFER WITH DOAK AND LAMONT

Meeting Follows One Attended by Operators to Discuss Coal Situation.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 13.—Representatives of labor from the principal coal-mining districts of three states were ready to take part late today in a conference with Secretaries Doak and Lamont.

The conference, called to discuss the situation in the bituminous industry, follows one held by the two secretaries and mine operators last week. Secretary Doak, in calling the conference, asked John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, to bring labor leaders together. Lewis a month ago asked President Hoover to call a general conference on economic conditions in the coal industry.

WAGE CUTTING CALLED UNWISE

Senator Copeland Criticizes Bankers' Reluctance to Support Industry.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, July 13.—In an address before the International Longshoremen's Association, United States Senator Royal S. Copeland declared it would be unwise for industry to cut wages during the present business depression.

"In this crisis," said Senator Copeland, "there must be no cutting of wages. I hope wisdom will prevail and there will be no such reductions." The Senator approved President Hoover's plan for the debt moratorium, declaring war debts and reparations interfere with international trade. He stated organized labor must do its utmost in all parts of the world to prevent conditions of self labor. Senator Copeland criticized bankers of this country for what he declared to be a reluctance to support manufacturers during lean times.

RETIRED PATROLMAN DIES

Fred W. Kassling, a retired patrolman, 824 E. Bevelly avenue, died at his home yesterday evening, following an illness of bronchitis. He was 84 years old, and had served 45 years in the St. Louis Police Department previous to his retirement in 1918.

Mr. Kassling was a Civil War veteran and was wounded in that service. As a policeman, he was attached for many years to the Central District and the old Third District. Surviving him are his daughter, Mrs. Alvira K. Mueller, an attorney, and two granddaughters, Mrs. Myrtle Slupsky and Mrs. Gladys Bruns. Funeral services will be held at St. Peter's Evangelical Church, Warne and St. Louis avenues, at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, with burial in St. Peter's Cemetery.

Robbed and Thrown from Train

Special to the Post-Dispatch. CARLYLE, Ill., July 13.—C. D. Smith, 43 years old, of Granite City, was held up last night by two Negroes, who took all his belongings except his underclothing and threw him from a train eight miles east of here. The robbers took a watch and $42. Smith crawled a mile to a farmhouse and was removed to a hospital in Breese with a broken right ankle and injuries to his back. He said he was in a Baltimore & Ohio freight car when the Negroes climbed aboard at Breese and robbed him.

G. O. P. COMMITTEEMAN QUILTS

By the Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—William H. Crocker, San Francisco banker, has resigned as Republican National Committeeman from California. The Executive Committee of the Republican State Central Committee elected Mark L. Requa, close personal and political friend of President Hoover, to succeed him.

"I have served for 15 years and I believe that is long enough," Crocker said. "I am a great admirer of President Hoover. I hope to be of some service in his coming campaign."

NUDE BODY OF WOMAN FOUND

Knee Crushed, Blackjack Near the Scene at Downingtown, Pa. By the Associated Press. DOWNINGTOWN, Pa., July 13.—The nude body of a young woman was found on a farm near here, the knee crushed and a blackjack lying on the ground nearby. The only clue to her identity was a pink-bordered handkerchief, a platinum ring from which the stone had been pried and a man's handkerchief initialed "M." The body was discovered by a plowman.

A coroner said she had been dead for three weeks. She was about 25 years old.

UNIONS ASSAIL MAYOR FOR JAIL LABOR VETO

Central Trades Urged to Support Aldermen on Similar Measure Next Fall.

Mayor Miller was censured, on a resolution passed by the Central Trades and Labor Union yesterday, for vetoing a bill which would have forbidden employment of workhouse prisoners in the city parks.

Speakers in support of the resolution urged the body to support the Board of Aldermen in a movement to pass a similar measure next fall. The measure vetoed by Mayor Miller had been passed by a vote of 14 to 1.

Specifically, the bill forbade the employment of prisoners outside the confines of the workhouse. The bill had been supported by union labor organizations on the ground that the use of prisoners was depriving free workmen of employment.

In vetoing the bill Mayor Miller pointed out that only about 40 prisoners were used in the parks, that none had more than 30 days remaining to serve, that there had been only one escape from a work gang in six years. He added that the city had no funds to finance the removal of rubbish and perform the other tasks of the prison or work gangs. The parks, he declared, would be neglected were the workhouse labor not available.

Mrs. Kitty Amaler, secretary of Waitresses' Union No. 249, criticized owners of frozen custard and watermelon stands, declaring their girl employees receive no salaries and must rely on tips of customers for their income.

SCHOOL BOY IS ON TRIAL FOR KILLING POLICEMAN

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, July 13.—Vernor Corry, 15 years old, pleaded not guilty of the murder of Policeman Edward Smith when his trial opened today before Judge Joseph Sabath in Criminal Court. The defense waived a jury.

The boy is accused of fatally shooting Smith last Memorial day. With two other high-school students, one his younger brother, he entered a school building to swim in the pool and when ordered out by Smith, he killed him, the State charged.

The first evidence introduced by the State was a five-page report of Dr. Harry R. Hoffman of the behavior clinic, which held Corry to be neither insane nor feeble-minded.

"Death has little meaning for him, however, and he is totally indifferent to the crime or to his fate," Dr. Hoffman said.

Present in the courtroom were his father and school-teacher mother and the widow of the policeman, whose objection last week had prevented Corry's counsel from entering a plea of guilty to manslaughter charges.

CLEARING HOUSE TOTAL SHOWS $31,441,108 DECREASE

Balance Figure on June 30, Reported as $337,376,323 for St. Louis.

The St. Louis Clearing House Association, in its statement of nine member banks and five associate members, June 30, shows a total, for resources and liabilities, of $537,376,323.17. The last previous statement, date April 24, showed a total of $568,817,431.26, so that the latest total is a decrease of $31,441,108.09.

Loans and discounts show a total of $263,528,332.06, a decrease of $23,377,869.46 from the April figure. Bonds, stocks and premium amount to $172,280,251.23, an increase of $5,129,142.64 over April. Deposits total $462,186,775.90, a decrease of $33,641,951.23. The decrease in the item of surplus and undivided profits is $1,150,162.78, the total being $28,563,626.07. Robert R. Tillay, manager of the Clearing House Association, said the decrease in deposits is a seasonal condition brought about by withdrawals to meet mid-year obligations. There was a slight increase in demand deposits of individuals and corporations despite a reduction of the interest rate to one-half of one per cent. Country banks made substantial withdrawals of demand deposits and the total of savings and time deposits also decreased materially.

JACOB GOLDSCHMIDT HAD METEORIC RISE

Head of Closed German Bank
Once on Board of 99 Industrial Concerns.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, July 13.—The collapse of the Darmstaedter und National Bank threw into prominence the name of Jacob Goldschmidt, its managing director and long considered one of the financial geniuses of Germany.

At the age of 49 Goldschmidt was not only regarded as being chiefly responsible for the hitherto high standing of the bank but as one of the ablest captains of industry. He was on the executive boards of more industrial concerns than any other German—99 in all.
These included the Hamburg
American Line, the Steel Trust, General Electric, Lufthansa and various insurance and mining companies.

As the second son of a Hanoverian merchant, he rose from the humblest beginnings to eminence.
Because he was one of seven children he couldn't study law as he wished but had to earn his living as a beginner in the H. Oppenheimer Bank in Hanover.

In 1907 he came to Berlin, where his rise to influence was meteoric. Successfully reorganizing the National Bank, he soon effected a fusion with the Darmstaedter Bank. This bank soon forged to the head of all German monster banks. Through his efforts various industrial concerns which almost went bankrupt through post-war inflation were saved from ruin.

First and Only Speech.
In recognition of these services,
Heidelberg University conferred on him an honorary degree of Doctor of Political Science in 1927. When the German bankers' convention met in Cologne in 1928 he made his first and only public speech on
"tendencies in the development of German economy."

It was a huge success for Goldschmidt has the faculty of stating his case lucidly but when invitations to address other addresses poured in on him, he said: "I speak only every 30 years. Date me up for 1958." He is an extreme believer in individualism.

Under German law for companies such as the Darm Bank, the Gesellschafter—proprietor or partner—is personally liable for losses. This means that Gold-schmidt's huge private fortune probably will be confiscated. It includes one of the finest collections of ancient Oriental art in private hands anywhere, a costly collection of paintings and a beautiful castle with a large estate near Potsdam.

Hare Flowers His Hobby.
Here his hobby was a conservatory of rare flowers which he proudly displayed to all visitors. He was extremely fond of music, especially the violin, and regularly entertained after philharmonic symphony concerts. Among his many virtuosos guests were Yehudi Menuhin, Fritz Kreisler and Wilhelm Furtwaengler.

The late Gustav Stresemann, former Foreign Minister, was one of his closest friends but it wasn't politics that drew them together—
it was Goethe and the theater.

DENIES KANSAS BARRED SALE OF CITIES SERVICE STOCKS

Attorney-General Says Action of Banking Department Changed
Classification.

By the Associated Press.
TOPEKA, Kan., July 13.—Denial that a bar had been placed on sale of certain Cities Service Co.
stocks in Kansas was made today at a district court hearing of proceedings instituted by the concern to enjoin enforcement of a State Banking Department order withdrawing its approval of the securities.

Roland Boynton, State's Attorney-General, contended in oral arguments the action did not bar
Cities Service stocks from sale in Kansas.

The Attorney-General said the stocks, listed on the New York Curb Exchange, were placed by the Kansas state securities board as of this listing in an "exempt"
classification, and that the action constituted a withdrawal of the stocks from that classification.

"It then became," he said, "the duty of the Cities Service company to come before the Banking Department and file a statement to sell the stocks by registration or by qualification."

Banking Department approval of Cities Service stocks listed on the New York Curb Exchange, except the company's first preferred, was withdrawn by Carl Newcomer, assistant bank commissioner in charge of Securities Department, on July 2 almost simultaneously with announcement by Representatives of Henry L. Doherty, New York, president of the company, of the refusal to meet Gov. Harry H. Woodring's demand for a reduction of 10 cents a thousand cubic feet in the city gas rate charged to local gas distributing companies in Kansas. Cities Service attorneys filed an amended petition contending the provision in the law was void and unconstitutional.

Herbert Brenon's Mother Dies.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 13.—
Mrs. Frances Brenon, 82 years old, writer and mother of Herbert Bren-on, movie director, died yesterday at her son's home in the summer movie colony at Malibu Beach.
She was the widow of Edward St.
John Brenon, London drama critic.
Besides her son, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Roma Gurney of New York. The funeral will be held in New York next Saturday.

How Decreased
Railroad
Earnings Affect You

Every reader of this newspaper is directly or indirectly concerned with the prosperous operation of American railroads as will be shown in this announcement. Read it carefully so that you may be impressed with the necessity for greater co-operation with the railroads and more equitable laws and regulations governing other forms of transportation.

At the close of last year 1,350,000 employees were in the service of the railroads, and this figure was over 400,000 less than five years before and fewer than at any time since 1909.

In the past five years this railroad has found it necessary, on account of competing forms of transportation and depressed business, to reduce its force by more than 18,700 employees—men and women who are capable, good citizens and assets to the community in which they live. Railroad employees are patrons of every line of business and professional activity.

Less patronage and lower earnings have forced the railroads to materially reduce their expenditures for fuel, products of iron and steel mills and various items of materials and supplies; numerous stations and ticket offices have been closed and many trains discontinued. These conditions have been observed and felt by almost everyone.

The Railroads Must Earn
To Spend

There is scarcely a family in all America that is not affected by railroad prosperity, or lack of it. This is evidenced by the widely-held securities, stocks and bonds, in the hands of the American people; all American institutions, financial, educational, etc., as well as forming the basis of many trust estates. Fourteen billion dollars worth of railroad bonds and ten billion dollars worth of railroad stocks are held by the public and these institutions.

It is to your interest, therefore, to assist the railroads in regaining their lost ground by patronizing them; and by helping them to solve the problems confronting them as the result of unjust and unfair competition with other forms of transportation operating for hire.

The steam railroads built this nation. They saved it in time of war and they must continue to be the backbone of its transportation structure. This they cannot do without the active support of travelers and shippers and a fair field of competition.

LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE R.R.

"THREE MUSKETEERS" WILL OPEN TONIGHT

First Half of Season's Performances Attended by 350,000 Persons.

More than 350,000 persons witnessed performances of the first half of the Municipal Opera season, which ended last night with the final performance of "Countess Maritza."

Those persons occupied 275,000 seats in the reserved sections and an additional 75,000 seats in the free sections. Many thousands of others, on whom there is no accurate check, stood at several performances when there were capacity houses.

Beginning the second half of the season tonight will be the seventh production, "The Three Musketeers," originally a Ziegfeld operetta based on the story by Dumas. It will be the first performance of the show in St. Louis. The music is by Rudolph Friml and the book by William Anthony Maguire.

Leonard Celey will head the cast as D'Artagnan. The parts of "The Three Musketeers" will be taken by George Hassell, as Porthos, Archie Leach as Athos and Joseph Lertora as Aramis. Gladys Baxter, the season's prima donna, will play the queen; Hal Forde as Richelieu, and Clifford N'wadi as the Duke of Buckingham. Others in the cast include Gretta Al-peter, Jack Sheehan and Sibylla Bowhan.

As Means of Advertising. The significance of the Municipal Opera as a means of advertising St. Louis was discussed in a radio address yesterday afternoon by Walter B. Welsenburger, president of the Chamber of Commerce and treasurer of the opera. Welsenburger and former Mayor Kiel, who is president of the Municipal Theater Association, spoke on the Community Forum broadcast from station KMOX.

"Aside from Lindbergh, the Municipal Opera has produced more constructive municipal advertising around the world than any one thing the city possesses," Welsenburger said. "Uncounted columns of space are used by newspapers in America in heralding the accomplishments of the Municipal Opera. Scores of magazine articles are printed. It is the sort of publicity which is of the utmost business value to any city. Every commercial supremacy in the history of the world has been based on a cultural supremacy."

Former Mayor Kiel, who discussed the confidence of St. Louis in the opera, said that the more extensive plans put in effect this season were initiated, in spite of a small deficit last year, because of the belief that St. Louis wanted the improvements.

Lesson of Co-operation. "St. Louis subscribed the necessary guarantees and bought more than $100,000 worth of tickets before the opening of the opera this year, because it had faith in the Municipal Theater Association, which sponsors and produces the opera," he said. He stressed the value of the lesson taught by the opera that St. Louis leaders could work together for any civic enterprise.

European delegates to the recent convention of the National Association of Retail Grocers at Milwaukee, who visited the opera last night, were enthusiastic in their praise of it. A number of them expressed surprise at the use of a revolving stage and the precision with which sound devices had been arranged.

Heavy Advance Sale. Advance reservations for "The Three Musketeers" are the largest of the season. Special groups attending the opera this week are the Merchants Tailors and Designers' Association tonight, the St. Louis Retail Grocers' Association, Emerson Electric Co. employees, Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co. employees, Arcade Business Men's Association, Zonta Club, Advertising Club, St. Louis Display-men's Association and Woman's Bar Association tomorrow night, with Shapleigh Hardware Co. employees on Wednesday night, and Missouri Pacific employees on Thursday night.

On Friday night the Merchants' Exchange, Junior Chamber of Commerce and Real Estate Exchange will have their regularly weekly night at the opera, and on Saturday night Illinois Central employees will attend the performance. Beginning next Monday night the presentation will be "A Wonderful Night," modernized version of Johann Strauss' comic operetta, "Die Fledermaus." Mrs. Fanny Todd Mitchell, former St. Louis playwright, adapted the show from the original.

Prisoner Hangs Self in Cell.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., July 12.—Marshall R. Nearson of Huntington County, hanged himself in the county jail here where he had been serving sentence for violation of the game laws. He was about 25 years old. Authorities said they had been investigating Nearson's activities and that he ended his life when he learned of the inquiry.

Illinois Legislator Marries.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. MOUNT VERNON, Ill., July 12.—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stills of Maunle, Ill., announced the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Veda Stills Price, to Representative Sidney Parker of this city. The wedding took place June 24 at Bridgeport, Ill. Mr. Parker is serving his second term in the lower house of the Illinois Legislature as a Democrat, from the Forty-sixth District.

HOOVER DAM SAFE, SAYS U.S. ENGINEER IN REPLY TO CRITIC

S. O. Harper Avers Skeptic Who Attacked Design Was Poorly Informed, Not a Geologist.

By the Associated Press. DENVER, Colo., July 13.—Criticism of the design of the Hoover Dam made by M. H. Gerry Jr., San Francisco consulting engineer, "appears to be that of a man poorly informed and without many of the facts concerning its construction at his command," S. O. Harper of Denver, assistant chief engineer of the Federal Reclamation Service, said yesterday.

"The design of the Hoover Dam is perfectly safe," Harper said. "Mr. Gerry's criticism would not be deserving an answer if it had not appeared in the Civil Engineering Magazine, official publication of the American Society of Civil Engineers."

Harper pointed out that Gerry's criticism is based on two main contentions, the first being that the rock on which the dam is built is not a safe foundation for a structure of the type designed. "A technical answer to Mr. Gerry would have to be made in a technical publication," Harper said, "but, so far as the general public is concerned, it might be well to point out that the sides of the canyon in which the dam will be constructed are nearly vertical, and have been so for millions of years."

Critic Not a Geologist. He said that if the rock were not of the kind to form a good foundation for the dam, it would have weathered away, leaving a canyon of sloping walls. It also might be pointed out, he said, that core drillings have been taken from the rock on which the dam will rest and have been submitted to the most exhaustive tests.

"Mr. Gerry is not a geologist," said Harper, "but some of the most eminent and conservative geologists in the country have examined the foundation rock and made tests. Among those of reputation are Prof. F. L. Ransome, Pasadena, Cal., and Charles P. Berker and W. J. Mead of the Colorado River Board, a group of consulting engineers. They have expressed the belief the rock will make the finest kind of foundation for the dam."

Gerry's second contention was a criticism of the dam itself. He states that a cross section shows it to be similar to the St. Francis Dam which went out in California several years ago, and says that no one knows how much additional strength is needed.

"The cross section may be similar to the St. Francis Dam," Harper explained, "so far as contour is concerned, but that dam had no provision for drainage as the Hoover Dam has."

How Drainage System Works. "The Reclamation Service," he said, "has not built a dam without drainage facilities for years. The drainage system consists of a series of holes drilled through the dam. These take up the water which seeps under the dam and excites the upward pressure. The water rises in these holes and then is carried off by other vents leading to the face of the dam on the downstream side."

Harper declared the Reclamation Service has had more experience in building dams than any other organization in the world and that none of those previously constructed has ever gone out, ever gone out.

"We believe," he said, "that we know something about the uplift pressure regarding which Gerry speaks. The Reclamation Service also, we believe, has through its many experiments answered the question of how much additional strength a dam is given by making it of the arch design."

Harper said in further commenting on Gerry's article that if $5,000,000 would make the dam safe, providing it was not already so, there would be no hesitation in spending that sum since the entire project would cost about $165,000,000, of which $75,000,000 will be for the dam proper.

CITIZEN SOLDIERS DRILL WITH RIFLES FOR FIRST TIME Parents Visited Training Camp at Jefferson Barracks Yesterday. Youths of Camp Howze, the Citizens' Military Training Camp at Jefferson Barracks, drilled for the first time today with Army rifles, learning the rudiments of the manual of arms. Target practice, however, will not begin for several days.

Parents visited the camp yesterday. No drills were held and the summer soldiers guided visitors about the camp.

Three airplanes of the Thirty-fifth Division, Air Service, Missouri National Guard, were flown over the barracks in the afternoon, the pilots giving an exhibition.

SHERIFF'S CHICKENS RETURNED

Released After Officer Starts Search at Doniphan, Mo. By the Associated Press. DONIPHAN, Mo., July 13.—

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

Sheriff Jim Young's chickens have come home to roost. A few nights ago some one raided the Sheriff's henhouse and stole 32 fine fryers. The next morning officers started on the trail.

The following day when Mrs. Young went out to feed the six remaining chickens the fryers were all present. The thief is believed to have released the chickens which he learned they belonged to the Sheriff.

Concerning Asparagus. In preparing fresh asparagus, cut off only the portion of stalk which is dry and pithy. The stalks in bundles with strips of muslin cloth (never use a string, as it will cut into the tender stalk) and stand on end in a deep kettle, and pour in boiling water to within an inch of the top of the stalks, cover the kettle and boil gently until tender. Do not overcook, or it will lose its delicate crispness.

Marberry had a slight edge over the other despite three of the five runs, until the eighth when he was taken out for a pinch hitter. Going into the last half of the eighth trailing by two runs the Athletics cut loose on first baseman and then Burke for seven runs. Marberry's wildness scored one run and left the bases loaded for Burke. Williams' pinch hitting forced, cleared the sacks with a sacrifice and his circuit drive was allowed a few minutes later by the off Simmons' bat, scoring Marberry.

WRAY'S

PERHAPS they will quit kidding us around, the circuit, after that outpouring of fans at Sportman's Park. The unfavorable comparisons of St. Louis with Detroit and Cleveland, according to which we were viewed as more "dead" than the other community with "no right to two major league franchises" can be answered with figures and facts.

While some 45,000 fans were viewing the game at St. Louis, Detroit, on a Sunday, with favorable weather conditions and only one baseball club to worship, turned out only 1900 to see the Tigers and Browns.

If ever a city "quit" on its baseball club, Detroit seems to be that burg. Yet, we still hear chatter about moving the Cardinals to the city by the Straits.

and for Baseball.

WHILE sympathizing with the desire of any club management to gather the shakels while it is hot, knowing that too often rain and a few bad games cut down their earning expectancies, encouraging record crowds by over-seating the standing room to the rafters from Gibraltar, it makes it impossible for the management to deliver to the masses the stuff it sells them—namely, championship baseball.

By the Associated Press.
UPSALA, Sweden, July 13.—Dr. Nathan Soederblom, 65 years old, Archbishop of Upsala and Primate of all Sweden, who devoted his life to the cause of world peace, died last night. His death came from a heart attack following an operation. On Dec. 12, last, in company with Frank B. Kellogg, former United States Secretary of State, he received the Nobel peace prize. His award was for 1920. Kellogg's for 1921.

The greater part of his work was done quietly and behind scenes. The cornerstone of his belief was that world peace could come through a universal understanding among the Christian church and his publications and occasional addresses to this end were known to thousands of clergymen all over the world.

"A Man of the Church and a Spiritual Warrior."

A leader of the Lutheran Church, Dr. Soederblom became a world personality for his efforts to unite the churches in the struggle for universal peace.

When the Nobel peace prizes for 1920 and 1921 were awarded last December, Premier Mowinkel contrasted Frank B. Kellogg, the 1921 winner, "the man of practical politics," with Archbishop Soederblom, "a man of the church and a spiritual warrior."

Long active in the cause of world peace, Dr. Soederblom was the principal organizer of the Christian Union Conference in Stockholm five years ago.

In 1923 he visited the United States under the auspices of the World Alliance for Promoting International Friendship, lecturing at Harvard, Yale and other universities.

In Geneva in 1924 he warned the League of Nations that if it would live, its members must refrain from attempts to satisfy their own political ambitions and realize that the league must be made an instrument for the operation of divine justice.

He also was a member in 1927 of the World Conference on Faith and Order at Lausanne, appointed to draft a report finding unanimity on six questions affecting church doctrine.

The Archbishop was born in the province of Helsingland, Sweden, Jan. 15, 1866. From 1894 until 1901 he was rector of the Swedish Church in Paris.

While his great aim had been for world pacification, his other interests were extensive.

Pro-Chancellor of the University of Upsala, Sweden's most ancient institution of learning, he studied prodigiously, mastering 10 languages, and wrote prolifically on the history of religions, religious history, Indian modes of worship and many other matters.

He had been professor of comparative theology at the University of Leipzig, held the chair of comparative history at the University of Upsala and was said to be the only foreigner ever made a doctor of theology by the University of Paris. He also was a member of the Swedish Academy.

100,000 Filipinos in Independence
Demonstrations for U. S. Senators*Hawes and Pitman See Another 50,000 in Parade in Manila—Army Men and Wives Stoned at Club.

By the Associated Press.
MANILA, July 13.—A group of American Army officers and their wives were stoned by a crowd of Filipinos here yesterday while other islanders were participating in an independence demonstration before two United States Senators. Several Americans were hit. Capt. Fred Adams of the Thirty-first Infantry, and Robert Davis, son of an Army officer, were injured, but not seriously.

The incident occurred at the open air swimming pool of the Army and Navy Club when the crowd of Filipinos, evidently curious, overran the grounds. Ordered off the grounds, the islanders became incensed and started throwing stones. The police were called, but only one officer was available, the others being busy handling the independence crowd several blocks distant. About 20 members of the club formed a phalanx and cleared the grounds, using their fists in a few instances.

The independence demonstration, given for Senator Harry B. Hawes of Missouri and Senator Key Pittman of Nevada, advocates of Philippine freedom, drew a throng estimated at between 100,000 and 200,000 persons. Another 50,000 participated in a parade described as a gesture to convince the Senators that the people of the islands were in their desire for political freedom.

The crowd was so dense that only a fraction of the paraders was able to pass the reviewing stand in which Hawes and Pittman stood. The paraders carried banners in the following words:

"A Man of the Church and a Spiritual Warrior."

25 U. S. LAWYERS IN ENGLAND
TO STUDY LEGAL PROCEDURE*Group Headed by Fenton Whitlock
Booth, Chief Justice of Court of Claims.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, July 13.—A party of 25 American lawyers headed by Fenton Whitlock Booth, Chief Justice of Court of Claims, arrived today to study law procedure and the administration of justice in England.

Arrangements have been made by leaders of the profession here to offer the party every facility for research. The group will be received by Sir Ernest Wild, recorder of the City of London; Lord Byng, Chief Commissioner of Police, and by the Lord Mayor, among others.

During the voyage on the liner France the party heard lectures by Dr. William Armstrong on the League of Nations and by W. Ray Vallance, president of the Federal Bar Association, on the Hoover memorandum. The group docked at Plymouth last night.

Some amusement was afforded the American spectators when the bands, passing the reviewing stand, played "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

Davis' Report Says Free Trade Saved Islands in Depression.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 13.—Free trade with the United States is credited by Governor-General Davis with saving the Philippine Islands from a major economic disaster as a result of the world depression.

Davis, in his annual report, said the islands had not escaped the depression, but were suffering from it less than other countries.

"There is no question that the one thing which saved the Philippine Islands from a major economic disaster was the free access to the enormous American market," Davis said.

"We could not have sold our sugar and many other crops in any other market."

Although prices of the islands' principal products have fallen, in some cases to the lowest level in 40 years, Davis said, increased volume had made up to some extent for the loss in price.

Aside from the economic situation, Davis reported conditions as a whole "have not been unsatisfactory," with excellent health conditions and little unrest.

Plans for meeting the deficit have been discussed at a series of Cabinet meetings, attended in an advisory capacity by Mexico's "strong man," Plutarco Elias Calles. The meetings will continue this week.

Gen. Joaquin Amaro, Secretary of War, is said to have offered to make a $2,000,000 cut in his budget by reducing army pay ranging from 25 per cent on the salaries of Generals down to 10 per cent on the pay of soldiers who receive a daily stipend of approximately 60 cents American money, with which they are required to buy their food.

A large cut also is said to have been determined upon in the Education Department's budget, but with the advancement of $5,000,000 by the Standard Oil Co. of California the Government will be able to continue its highway program. The company has agreed to advance the money monthly in installments of $400,000, which is to be used solely for road work.

Dr. Weizmann, however, scored a victory when the political commission in another resolution dealing with the ultimate aims of Zionists omitted all mention of the term "Jewish majority" against the inclusion of which Dr. Weizmann made a special appeal Saturday night.

Danzig appeals to League to keep out Polish Marines.

By the Associated Press.
DANZIG, July 13.—The Government of Danzig Free State last night asked the League of Nations Commissariat to take immediate steps to prevent the recurrence of the marching of Polish marine detachments from warships stationed in Danzig harbor through the city's streets.

A similar protest was voiced in a recent note from Danzig to the Polish Government, but the answer to this note disavowed any necessity for seeking permission for such removals of troops.

Danzig officials condemned Poland's action as an attempt to provoke incidents "likely to have grave political consequences."

Four Days of Shocks in Philippines.

By the Associated Press.
MANILA, July 13.—Earthquake shocks shook the island of Masbate, Central Philippines, today for the fourth successive day. Although not severe, their continuance has alarmed the populace. Gov. Teofilo Cordova reported considerable damage had occurred, but no deaths. There were 22 brief shocks.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 13.—The Farmers' National Grain Corporation announced today that 39 warehouses and elevators have been leased in Idaho and Utah and that negotiations practically had been completed for the purchase of the Soo Line terminal elevators at Minneapolis.

The Minneapolis elevator, the corporation announcement said, has a capacity of 2,300,000 bushels, is of modern concrete construction and is electrically equipped for fast operations. Sufficient space should it be found desirable later, was to be included in the purchase.

Twenty-three of the 39 warehouses and elevators leased in Idaho and Utah were from the Colorado Milling and Elevator Co., Denver. The other 16 were from the Globe Milling and Elevator Co., Ogden, Utah.

Ready for New Crop.

Several other elevators have been purchased or leased in the Colorado territory, insuring stockholders of the Grain Corporation in the three states efficient service in handling the new crop, the corporation said.

"Acquisition of elevator and warehouse properties in the Indian territory, following the launching of a $1,000,000 facilities program in the Pacific Northwest, puts the National Grain Co-operative in a strong position for the handling of the grain business of these two territories," said C. E. Huff, president of the corporation.

"Facilities built and to be built or acquired in the Pacific Northwest include not only local warehouses, but considerable storage space both at the important terminals and inland."

"Important expansion of Farmers' National Grain Corporation operating plans in other areas also has taken place. Stockholders of the corporation in Colorado, Missouri and Nebraska, in addition to those in the Pacific Northwest and Intermountain country, have contracted with the National Agency for the direct handling of members' grain."

Continuous Market Provided.

"Under these agreements, Farmers' National Grain Corporation will meet the growers of grain at their local shipping points, permit them to exercise full option as to when their grain shall be sold, provide a continuous market for grain in any quantity and at the same time eliminate duplication of service in the handling and selling of the commodity."

"In areas where co-operatively owned facilities do not exist, Farmers' National Grain Corporation, under the operating agreement with the stockholders, undertakes to provide such facilities by purchase, lease or construction, and to operate them in the most efficient and helpful relationship to the local producer groups."

Swiss Town's First Murder Trial.

COIRE, Switzerland, July 13.—The first murder trial ever held here opened today. Mme. The prosecution is asking that she be sent to prison for eight to 12 years.

British Banks Criticized.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, July 13.—Criticism of British bank bookkeeping methods, under which it is said "monthly balances" fail to show the true situation, and absolute opposition to tampering with the gold standard as a monetary basis feature the report of the MacMillan Committee investigating Great Britain's financial structure.

The committee named by Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in 1929 under Lord Macmillan, issued its report in the form of a blue book. The report declares against any revision of the gold value or sterling, but recommends that British influence be directed toward lowering the international value of gold in terms of wholesale commodities. Discussing the practice of joint stock banks in fixing differentials between their holdings and their deposits in the Bank of England, the report says, "the same liquid resources are doing duty four times over during the week." The committee recommends a concerted policy by the part of Great Britain, the United States and France under which legislative hindrances to foreign loans could be eliminated.

JOHN G. NEIHARDT

Won't Work Somehow!

THE WAY TO RECOVERY. By Sir George Paish. (G. P. Putnam's Sons, New York City, $2.50.)

SIR GEORGE PAISH is a great authority on political, financial and economic matters. It was told, who, during the war, brought about a shipment of gold from the Bank of England to America, thus giving our industrial giant a much needed boost in the arm.

He was connected in connection with the Federal Reserve bank, and when the outbreak of the World War upset our financial system he was sent to Washington by the British Government at the request of the United States and to bring the chronically ill patient out of another spasm. During the war he was Lloyd George's financial adviser and was knighted in recognition of his services.

Anybody understands the highly ingenious and complicated mechanical machine that our competitive-profit industrial system seems to be. Sir George Paish is the man, according to reports. Of late he has been looking it over carefully, and he finds that there is really nothing fundamentally wrong with the mechanism except that it won't run. And it seems that it won't run because of various wheels, cams, levers, etc., of which it is constructed, refuse to work together, each preferring to do business for itself.

"The existing situation," says the master mechanic, crawling out from under the machine, "is without precedent. The crisis is no ordinary depression that will right itself as former crises righted themselves. * * * The situation needs, therefore, to be considered not as a depression but as a disaster. * * * It is not the wreck of a single nation that is involved—it is the wreck of a world. Universal bankruptcy accompanied by universal revolution will place in jeopardy not merely civilization but life itself."

It would only consent to adopt a universal attitude of condonation toward this machine, we understand, it would start up without delay and would very soon be running at a speed more frightful than ever, producing more of everything than ever before and therefore bringing unprecedented prosperity. This seems queer.

somehow, considering the co-existence of bursting granaries and breadlines, overstocked warehouses and millions upon millions, who produced the overstock by their labor, suffering every need. It might almost seem that we are already too prosperous for comfort; but, of course, only experts, such as our great statesmen and captains of industry, can understand such things.

What we need, the layman must be contented to believe, is another spell of unlimited production and unlimited consumption, every nation making all it possibly can of everything it can make and freely trading its unlimited industrial and agricultural products with all the other nations who are doing the same thing without limit. There seems to be a joker in this proposition somewhere, but, surely, if there really were a joker our great statesmen would see it at once and act wisely without delay. Universal confidence in the proposition above indicated is undoubtedly the chief requisite.

There are, naturally, important details needing immediate attention. Above all, the competing industrial nations positively must agree to be nice to each other, and never, never fight. They must think of each other as members of a great happy family. War, says Sir George, is, in our age, "unthinkable." Irreverent persons might suggest that anyone who finds war unthinkable needs to have his thinker completely overhauled.

The greater portion of Sir George's volume is devoted to a discussion of the war debts and the deadly effect they are having on world economy. Much of this should be illuminating to many readers. According to temperament, the situation, as presented, may be regarded as either amusing or tragic. For instance, the debtor nation cannot pay its creditor unless the latter will freely admit the goods of the former; and if the debtor's goods are freely admitted, the creditor's industries suffer; and if the debtor with his goods to sell is walled out by tariff, the creditor suffers because he cannot collect the debt!

Sir George, in a preface written while the book was in the press, greatly approves as candidly as possible what seem to be two basic questions, as follows: Why should it be taken for granted that great productive activity is the prime social good, and that the greater the activity the greater the good? What is the really sane justification for producing anything—is it that there

STATUE TO MEXICAN AVIATOR UNVEILED AT CHATSWORTH, N.J.

Marks Spot Where Capt. Carranza Crashed to Death on Good Will Flight.

By the Associated Press. CHATSWORTH, N. J., July 12.—A monument to Capt. Emilio Carranza, Mexican army flyer, the gift of Mexican school children, was unveiled with official ceremony here yesterday. Built of stone brought from Mexico, it stands at the spot where three years ago Carranza was killed when returning the good-will flight of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Mexican consuls from New York and Philadelphia represented the Mexican Government at the exercises while the American Legion Post at Mount Holly and the Sixteenth Infantry band of the United States army stationed at Camp Dix assisted. Enrique D. Ruiz, Mexican Consul-General in New York, paid tribute to Carranza, to the people of New Jersey and the United States who had assisted in caring for the body of the flyer.

"The monument," he said, "stands as evidence of the strong bond of friendship between my country and the United States." Although the flyer was killed July 12, 1928, the monument bears the date of July 13, the day his body was found.

Day by Day at Sea

By O. O. McIntyre

THROUGH a cabin porthole the cyclorama of lights that is New York's night skyline is fading. The great liner is shivering into the first ocean swells and there isn't anything I would not give to be back in my apartment. In 19 crossings I invariably have this reaction.

My travel thrills are entirely anticipatory. In the actual progress of journey I'm always wondering why I came. Yet by tomorrow I'll likely be planning a jaunt to Hawaii this winter. This trip might be an uncomfortable one had I been negligent in a matter of tipping several years ago.

In disembarking from the liner Paris I forgot the customary portholes for Taitbout, a steward who had served me well. The next day I sent a fair fee along, with an extra gratuity for my carelessness by special messenger. Tonight I found Taitbout had been transferred to the Ile de France.

And among the cabins he attends is 295 A, which we occupy. Imagine a rough crossing with a steward one had not tipped! I saw our take off from New York tonight through the eager and excited eyes of Ray Long Jr., aged 7, who accompanied by his mother is making his first voyage.

He is to summer in the South of France, where by fall he will be speaking French like a native as children do while we grow-up struggle for years to make the name of our Paris hotels understandable to taxi drivers. Our cabin before the leave taking became somewhat a miniature hall of notables.

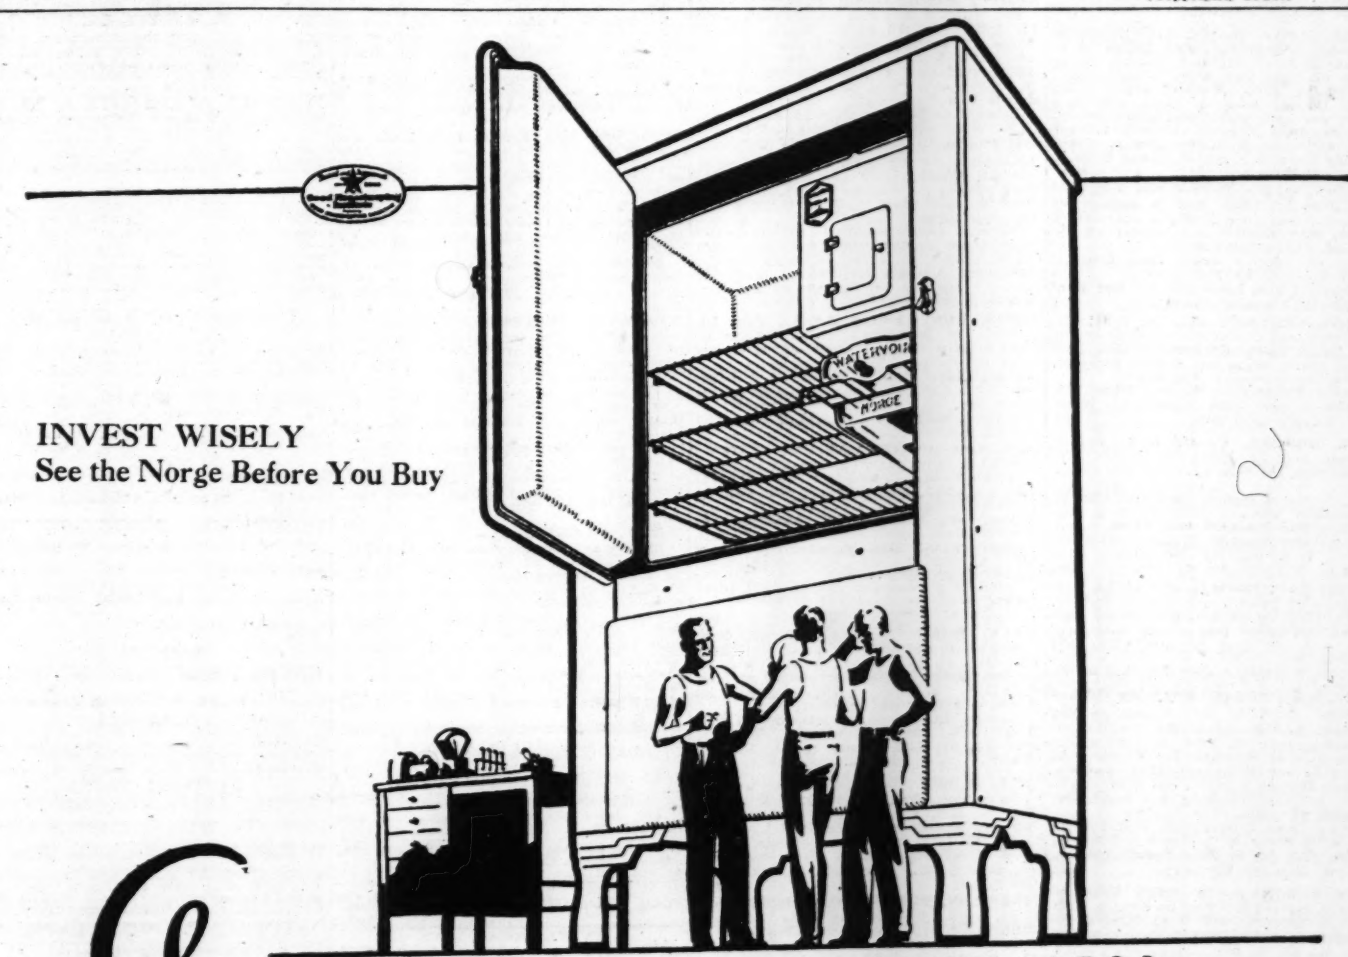

Billy, the Boston, is a fellow voyager and a complacent one. Already he is under a bed with his head between his paws sound asleep. Without checking up I should say it is his seventh trip. If outward appearances are indicative, a sea voyage means nothing in his life. Just a long sleep.

RAINBOW, the Sealham, was to come along but at the last moment we had misgivings. He is a puppy, sensitive and easily frightened. And it was decided he would be better off in the affectionate atmosphere he enjoys at home. He was too engrossed in tearing up a cardboard box to come to the door and see us depart, anyway.

AMONG the books I hope to read as we plow merrily along are: "The Moonstone," by Wilkie Collins; "The Caliph of Bagdad," a life of O. Henry; "Flamenco," and for a shudderer, "The Night of Fear," which I snatched from a book stall at the pier. Nobody ever traveled with the right amount of reading. There is always too much or too little. With my flair for the humorous I'm hoping my reading will come out just right. Finish the last paragraph of the last book, look up from the deck chair and there is land. Or, as we ancient mariners scream, "Land ho!"

DUE to customary indecision, I had only five hours between making up my mind to sail and actual sailing time. In the fever of packing I was reminded that I nearly always neglect some important article of shaving. So forewarned, I brought along three safety razors, an assortment of shaving creams, lotions, etc. I used similar precautions in other accessories such as two combs, two pock-

EIGHT ARSON PLOTTERS SENTENCED TO PRISON

Confessed Activities Over Five-Year Period in Eight States

By the Associated Press.
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 13.—Authorities here expressed belief that an arson ring, with activities extending into several states, was broken as four men and four women pleaded guilty to charges of conspiracy and arson Saturday. The men were sentenced to prison terms ranging from nine months to four years and nine months. The women also were sentenced, but terms were suspended.

Written confessions, some of which implicated persons not now under arrest, disclosed activity over the past five years and cited specific instances of arson in Florida, Texas, Louisiana, Arizona, Georgia, Alabama, California and Virginia. Those who pleaded guilty and their sentences:

August Smith, operator of a hotel here and alleged leader of the ring, four years and nine months, for arson and conspiracy; C. H. Lloyd, conspiracy; J. B. Coran, conspiracy; J. S. Osgood, conspiracy, all of Jacksonville, nine months each.

The women, who drew nine months' suspended sentences, are Mrs. Elsie Smith, wife of August; Mrs. Coran, Mrs. Osgood and Mrs. Pearl Zetie.

Mrs. Smith's confession, authorities said, cited fires the ring was responsible for in New Orleans, a furniture store in El Paso, Tex., and fires in Birmingham, Atlanta, Tampa, Savannah, San Antonio, San Diego, Cal.; Tucson, Ariz., and Ocean View, Va.

REVIVED AFTER 18 HOURS BUT LIVES ONLY 30 MINUTES

The victim of an overdose of sedative, Arlie C. Shannon, 48 years old, legless owner of a cigar store at 4919 Delmar boulevard, was revived yesterday with a Fire Department inhalator after 18 hours' work but refused to go to a hospital and died half an hour later. Shannon was unconscious at his home, 3930 Westminster place, when the inhalator squad of Engine Co. No. 50 was called. He was given 18 tanks of oxygen between 12:40 p. m. Saturday and 6:30 a. m. yesterday when he regained consciousness. Shannon, who was lame for 14 years, was born in Troy, Mo., and had operated a cigar store here for seven years. He is survived by his widow and a daughter.

THE MURDER OF THE CHOIR

CHAPTER NINETEEN.

STARED at Colt in amazement. He was deliberately leading his pipe.

"That is a detail Mr. Gerald neglected to mention," the chief it on grimly. "I shall be interested to refresh his memory. Another thing—Lengel has located a woman who keeps a tea-room near the Terrace. She is some kind of fortune-teller. She and I have to have a little talk, too. She told Fegley that the couple d to drop into her tea-room and that once she overheard them ding about some secret place in the church that they used as a tiffbox box. That was looking into."

"Not too fast. I want to finish dictating this resume to you—wait for Dougherty."

"I'm all ready, chief."

Let's continue, then. Some of men have been digging into past lives of all these people, their study has not been very pful or illuminating, so far. We nd out that a man named ash did guard the Vaillant last at while Saunders was away, that Saunders remarked on ing that he was going home a bottle of medicine. That is way of clearing the ground. Is the search of the Beazley tory and study, the Saunders hel in Lane Man's Court, and continued examination of No. Sangster terrace—searches of ee houses which I have inded this morning, conducted by erts, but which have, so far, ealed practically nothing. Still, quest for the gossip in the gregation has yielded some unge fruit."

"You mean it was known—?" Some people knew about the affair. The scandal was not in the congregation, but it talked about. As you know v, the widow and the Curtains dled brazenly when they t there was no intimacy. Do you think Willie Saunders w?"

"I don't know what to think ut him. I am inclined to give e thought to his daughter, bel in school, she had a repen for being a holden and a giddy; but good-natured. The arkable thing is that in the few months she has been ved and melancholy; a giglet ing into a hypochondriac, in nt of her teacher's eyes. We y find something there."

"The excited gleam in Colt's eyes I know how keen he was on the case. But I knew, too, d the mystery was not her than simplified, by the ramations exposed by our detectives their first morning on the case. e next morning, Colt surprised e saying:

"Nor is the supernatural miss: from our complications, Tony. The supernatural?"

"Ay, me lad! A tale of haunting phantasms seen cruising through darkened aisles of the Church St. Michael and All Angels."

"Well, that's one thing we don't ve to worry about."

"I wouldn't be so sure. The story ms to have had wide circulaon. Then it was hushed up. But ed hours—gone, certainly, en the church was locked up, ething was seen, moving about, usteriously inside. Several peo saw the apparition at different es. No, I wouldn't be inclined dismise that spoke too readily." Colt looked thoughtful for a moent.

"Finally," he recited, "we come a vital lead—the clergyman's ivate secretaries."

I looked at him curiously. "You dwell on 'I'?" I reminded m, "last night and again this orning. Would you mind enen-ting me—why do you coner that so vital?"

Colt spread wide his hands and got at me in amazement. "It is almost impossible," he exund, "for a man to keep seets from his secretary. Sooner ater, however secretive he may e, she will find out what is going on. From the women who work d by side with the Rev. Timothy caseley I am sanguine of obtaing something tangible about his verish inner life."

"Have the young ladies been un?"

"Yes. Both Miss Emma Hicks, ho was his secretary after the signation of Evelyn Saunders, ad Bessie Struber, from whom vely took over the job, are waitg at this moment in our ante-amber. They were rounded up r us this morning by Detective chultz, the most conscientious, the most complete fact-finder in the ervice. Suppose we have him in rt."

A moment later, Detective-Serant Schultz entered the room.

"Well, Schultz?"

Blonde Frances Williams Acquires a Husband but She Can't Get Rid of a $100,000 Damage Suit.

NEW YORK, July 10.

FRANCES WILLIAMS, Broadway musical comedy star and radio blues singer, seems to have had—in her short life—the habit of falling in love with musicians. And just now she is having her troubles. She is being sued for the alienation of a pianist's affections, although she has married a trumpeter since the filing of the suit.

Once upon a time—not such a long time ago, either—Frances thought that she was going to marry Alan R. Jones, pianist in "Fifty Million Frenchmen." His wife (for, he was married) thought that Frances was going to marry him, too. When the singer made up her mind that she would much rather have her song of love on a trumpet, and married Lester Clark of Warrington's Pennsylvania, Mrs. Jones couldn't get back to her original piano harmony. Frances, she said, had put in a divorce.

And so Mrs. Jones is suing her for stealing her man away. Frances Williams has had an orchestra for a background ever since she started her career five years ago. Saxophones, cellos, violins, jangling cowbells, the bottom beat of a skitter—she heard love's old sweet song on all of them every night. It wasn't any wonder that she was interested in musicians.

First she was in vaudeville, billed as part of the rather obscure team of Vanness and Williams. Then suddenly the obscure team appeared in "The Rhapsody in Blue," by George Gershwin.

Broadway was just three hours up the road, but the revue didn't get there. Frances did, though. She opened at a night club called "The Wigwag." She sang her severance and sex song, no lure, no come-comes!

"Bring her in," instructed Colt, his face serious and composed, except for the unmanageable twinkle of his eyes, adding as an afterthought, "The scandal was not in the congregation, but it talked about. As you know v, the widow and the Curtains dled brazenly when they t there was no intimacy. Do you think Willie Saunders w?"

BESSIE STRUBER justified Schultz's worldly opinion of her physical charms. She was a petite little monochrome in brown—eyes, hair and nose, stockings, purse, and mended gloves. But I noticed that her skin was fair, and fine and delicately beautiful. Her air was frightened and yet not imprecisely alert; she had a slow, wistful glance and a generally discouraged air. Whether this was habitual or a result of the shocking news of the crime I could not determine. She looked around her taking a slow, wistful glance and a generally discouraged air.

When she spoke, her voice was low and soft, and her eyes were downcast. She looked around her taking a slow, wistful glance and a generally discouraged air.

But the comedienne didn't marry Kaley. There seemed to be too many complications over his other marriage.

In 1930 Jones came along, his love song set to jazz. Once upon a time he had been a sailor, and once he had driven a taxicab. Then he got a vacation. When I came back, Dr. Beazley had filled my place and I had to seek work elsewhere.

"I see, Mrs. Saunders took your place?"

"Yes, sir."

"Do you think Mrs. Saunders and Beazley were in love with each other?"

Bessie Struber flushed. "I have heard that gossip. I even read about it in extra's this morning. But Dr. Beazley was too ambitious to use as a churchman to waste his time on women."

All other questions failed to elicit any revealing light on the mystery. Bessie Struber answered frankly and fully, manifesting a warm desire to help the detectives, but as is so often the case, her heat gave us no illumination.

When she departed, Detective Schultz returned, smiling elaborately and eager to continue his announcement.

"You've seen Bessie," he resumed. "Number two was Evelyn and you saw her in the boat. Now I want to tell you about Number three, who is waiting for you outside."

"Emma Hicks," from me, for my notes.

"Emma Hicks is her name, honest to God. And did I have a job finding Emma? The first thing I done was to look up her name in the telephone directory. Not there. So then I went to the church and got the name of the sexton and flashed my badge. That fixed him. I want Emma Hicks. I says, 'What's she done?' he says, 'Nothing. I says, 'But I want her quick. So he tells me where she lives—it's a little house, Tudor-bethan they call it, where she lives with her aunt—told me in Forest Hills. She said that Forest Hills had more people pro rata, or per capita, whatever it was, in Who's Who than any other think it was. And I'll marry him if it's the last thing I do."

She wore a diamond solitaire, which she said was an engagement ring from the melody man, and she further insisted that she would marry him two minutes after he received his divorce.

"I love Alan and he loves me. I'll wait 10 years to marry him, if necessary," she informed the world.

Meantime Alan filed suit for a divorce. His suit, charging desertion, has not yet come to trial.

There is one little story told of the pianist's desire to grant every wish of the musical star.

One night, when the cast of "Fifty Million Frenchmen" were whooping it up for Broadway's entertainment, Jones was missed from the piano. For a whole week he didn't appear.

Inquiry revealed that once, long before, when he was in the Navy, he had had his errand tattooed like all the other sailors. While he rattled off tunes, on any available piano, and the Navy lads crooned ballads to the girls they had left behind them, he felt a little proud because he, too, bore the colored stamp of approval.

But that was before he knew that some day he would fall in love with a musical comedy star who thought such decorations ridiculous. So, it developed, he had a doctor remove the tattoo marks. A slight infection had developed and he was away for a week.

As soon as his arm was well the orchestra leader took his place in the show again.

It was 3 o'clock in the morning. She had sung the whole night through. Outside a black limousine was waiting. She and Lester climbed in. A friend was at the wheel. They drove through the Holland tunnel into New Jersey, sped on through Pennsylvania, and then went to Maryland, where there are many Gretna Greens.

At Kennedyville they obtained a license. A sleepy-eyed Justice of the Peace, who was eating an early breakfast, put down his napkin and united the elopers in marriage.

The newly-married couple thanked him and paid him, tucked their license away, and came back to New York. The show had to go on. And they had some songs to sing and play.

But while Miss Williams slipped away to be married in the cool gray dawn of the early spring morning, the shadow of the $100,000 heart balm suit went trailing right along.

On April 21 the elopement was revealed. Mrs. Jones heard about it. Miss Williams had plainly demonstrated her preference for a trumpeter without a wife over a pianist who had one. But Mrs. Jones wasn't comforted. "I don't care, if Miss Williams marries 10 men," she said through her counsel. "She's wrecked my home and she'll have to pay."

But while her love affairs were getting off key, Miss Williams' songs were ringing true. She had appeared on Broadway in the "International Revue," where she sang "Exactly Like You." When E. Ray Goetz assembled the cast for "The New Yorkers," he wasn't satisfied until he had booked Frances Williams for his show. It was her first role in a book show.

The alienation of affections suit is scheduled for the September court, in Pittsburgh, where the suit was filed.

Lester Clark will be in a peculiar position when the trial comes off. He is the husband of the girl that such a large number of other musicians courted with serenades and didn't win. He is still a bridegroom. But he must take the stand to convince the jury that his wife had nothing whatever to do with any rift between Mr. Jones and Mrs. Jones.

Alan Jones is going to be in an embarrassing position, too. His wife is suing another woman for stealing him away. And the woman who is being sued didn't want him, apparently, for she discarded him for somebody else.

HEALTH

Brief articles prepared by experts. Edited by Dr. J. J. Goldstein, for the New York Academy of Medicine.

Smallpox

ONE of our Eastern cities is going through an embarrassing and costly experience, the like of which threatens many other large and small communities in the country.

A case of smallpox appeared, followed by others. To stem the disease and prevent an epidemic, the health authorities were obliged to quarantine the entire section.

Streets were roped off and police guards placed to keep residents from leaving their quarters before being vaccinated.

This may appear like arbitrary and cruel treatment, and undoubtedly it is inconvenient to many.

But bitter experience has taught us that it is the only way in which a smallpox epidemic can be averted. Ten years ago a Midwestern city suffered an epidemic of smallpox, in which there were approximately 1100 cases with 222 deaths.

The last generations have forgotten how dreadful a disease smallpox is, but our forefathers knew it well.

In 1752 Boston had a population slightly over 15,000. One-third of this population had had smallpox previous to the epidemic which broke out in that year.

Out of the remaining population no fewer than 7663 developed smallpox.

Our failure to appreciate the seriousness of the disease tends to expose us to its epidemic development.

In many communities there are a large number of unvaccinated persons, among whom smallpox may break out like wildfire.

Everyone should be vaccinated. The process is safe. It is an effective protection against the disease for a period of seven to 10 years.

Rabies should be vaccinated before they are 8 months of age. Those who have been exposed or are liable to be exposed to smallpox should be vaccinated every seven years.

The paper ribbon that comes between ribbon on a bolt is splendid to put next the feed bar on the sewing machine when sewing on sheer material or lace. It prevents puckering and is easily torn away.

If you ask my OPINION

by Martha Carr

EAR MRS. CARR: I have been reading your column ever since it started. You have successfully solved a great many problems for others and so I hope for your wisdom.

What is the formal order of a business meeting of a sorority? There can be a sorority find any information about becoming national? A sorority is a recognized, local organization if a charter and constitution have been drawn up and are a lawyer's files?

And now as a last question, I would like to know if this stationery is quite correct for use? A. B.

The formal order of business could be simply to call the meeting to order and proceed with the important matter on hand. Make any other business organization.

Call the Dean of Women at Washington University or write to the grand president of one of the unknown sororities, whose address you will probably obtain from the Dean of Women at Washington.

Your stationery is a little garish.

EAR MRS. CARR: I read your column every day and enjoy it very much. People ask me many different questions, but none seem to have one exactly like mine.

I am 19 years old. I can play good games of bridge, or almost any kind of cards. I like such things as swimming, tennis, bowling, etc., but I cannot dance.

I have taken lessons and the teacher said I could dance all right. It seemed as though I could get along all right with him, but cannot seem to follow others so well. For that reason I very seldom go to dances or places where they intend to dance. I know nobody likes to dance with a person who can't do it well, but what am I going to do?

When I do get courage to go, I feel it and wish it was over. I realize I will never get any better staying at home. Should I just go out and try, and make the others suffer?

Thank you so much for giving me this information.

Sincerely, ROSALIE.

You probably could dance as well as anyone if you would just relax more and forget that you were trying to keep in step. Try to adjust your step to the rhythm of the music as much as to that of your partner. Dance alone to the music of the radio or victrola, be sure of your rhythm first. After that, when you have danced so much, adapt your step to your partner. Call on your girl and boy friends to help you out some in time so that when you go to a dance, you will take it as a matter of course. Keep on with your dancing lessons, but change your teacher.

EAR MRS. CARR: I am 14 years old and my mother does not approve of my going swimming where boys and girls are together in the water. What do you think about it? Mother thinks I should have a chaperon.

BABE.

I have no objection to the boys swimming in a pool or lake together, provided they have proper supervision in case of an accident. I believe it is better to have an older person or people with cool heads and some sense to call upon in case of emergency.

EAR MRS. CARR: I would be very pleased to have you give me some advice. My husband and I have been married almost two years and enjoy company coming to our home as well as visiting acquaintances and friends. I have invited a number of young couples to our home for an enjoyable evening and all serve a nice lunch. It seems very to be very sociable and make them to the bus or car when they leave. After they have been here we never are invited to their homes and they seldom come again. I don't seem to understand what is wrong, as we are very pleasant to everyone.

A LONELY COUPLE.

There is nothing in your letter would indicate in the least why these people are so rude. Certainly if they accept your invitations they should feel that they are decently courteous. Some (and it is a very, unlovely habit, to say the least), people the idea that you are so next to be friends that they are smart to be aloof. If that is the case, I should certainly give them plenty of chances to be—and leave. Fortunately, there are a lot of nice people. Try being extremely polite and agreeable and a little removed in manner.

could tell better, perhaps, if you would go more into detail.

EAR MRS. CARR: Could you please tell us what three girls, between the ages of 15 and 17, do on summer evenings? We go out with boys and we cannot go to attend shows very often. Can you help us? No one seems to be able to.

THREE PAIS.

Summer evenings are light and bright and I should think Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr, at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest but, of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an addressed and stamped envelope for a personal reply.

you might have some kind of games, as tennis and the less strenuous croquet. A croquet set doesn't cost much and neither does a "ping-pong" set. Both of these games have been revived in the last year and are very smart. The croquet doesn't take much ground (perhaps a vacant lot near?) and you could have a ping-pong set on a table out of doors. That you could take in and keep up the game in the house. Both games can be played by an odd or even number of persons.

It's a perfectly good idea to do some reading together when you go in the house after dark. There are a number of fascinating stories which are good for summer reading. These should be short and perhaps a series—so you would have something to look forward to, for the next night. Ask at the library for such a series.

DEAR MARTHA CARR: I have some doubts and troubles about which I am asking your helpful advice.

The past year or so I have been going out with girls and boys at intervals. For a while I have a good time, but suddenly everything stops and seems so dead and no one takes an interest in me. I don't always know what to talk about with the girls. I have a good high school education and I wouldn't consider myself dumb, yet with a bunch of girls I cannot act and talk as freely as the rest. Then when I am with a man they like me, but then I don't "pet" and so they tell me they lose interest in a girl of this kind. I hate that so-called pastime. Do you think that is why I have so few men friends? It can't be on account of my looks, either, for I am considered quite fair looking.

The more activities you have the more strongly fortified you are against dullness of any kind. But these lapses come to everyone, even to the most popular girl. The less she notices them the better for her happiness and even for her future popularity. Worry over this kind of things makes a girl age and given to misunderstanding. Then she wonders why she isn't popular. Of course, I don't know just what attributes you have, but I would counsel giving yourself more varied interests and the rest will come.

As to "petting"—it has no place, either the practice or the discussing of it, in "Best Society." A man who is of the "pawing" type is as objectionable as the woman who nudges and taps you every time she wishes to emphasize her point or call attention to something. It's raw; no matter who indulges in it. Don't hang on to a man for support. Try adjust his necktie or flick an imaginary crumb from his coat. Be cordial but not familiar.

DEAR MRS. CARR: I received a fountain pen from my aunt's friend and would like to send him a note of thanks, but I just do not know the right thing to say. Thanking you in advance for your kind help.

Couldn't you write him a little note, saying just what you would say if you were to see him and want to thank him? For instance:

Dear Mr. So-and-So: You haven't any idea how pleased I was to receive the pretty (or nice, whichever it is) fountain pen from you. I shall take great comfort in using it. And I hope you will accept my very best thanks. Sincerely, PAT.

DEAR MRS. CARR: I have a very dear friend who lives in a different city and I am constantly writing her but she does not answer my letters. Do you think I am foolish to continue to write her?

—Would you kindly tell me how to take a perspiration spot out of my new Panama hat? BILLY.

You know, better than anyone else, just what your friend's activities and duties are that might be so absorbing. Certainly, unless she has very good reason for failing to write, I should cease writing her for a while, at least.

While your Panama is so new, I believe you would better not tamper with the perspiration spot; take it to a professional cleaner. It will be worth the expense.

A Change in Diet

When the family is eating more meat than is good for them, try substituting a nice Welsh rabbit, served with a mixed vegetable salad, buttered toast and tea, and fruit gelatin or stewed fruit for dessert.

Mix cream cheese with enough Russian dressing to form a creamy paste. Spread between thin slices of graham bread. A delicious sandwich.
